

Reuther Prepares For Contract Talks With Chrysler

Meets With Bargaining Team
Before Starting Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — Walter Reuther went into a signal-calling huddle with his United Auto Workers bargaining team today before tackling Chrysler Corp. in the final round of the Big Three auto labor contract negotiations.

Chrysler agreed to meet the UAW president and his team at 2 p. m. (EST) for intensified negotiations. Reuther first briefed rank-and-file members on bargaining strategy in a meeting at union headquarters. Their plans were kept secret.

The Chrysler bargaining team, led by John D. Leary, vice president for personnel, hasn't seen Reuther since opening day of negotiations 3½ months ago. Indications were today's session would be limited to preliminary maneuvering, with each team sizing up the other's goals.

Meantime, Reuther has reached agreements with General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. — and also with American Motors Corp., the nation's fourth largest auto maker.

Reuther was expected to ask Chrysler to match the settlement made with General Motors last month but not necessarily the frosting put on the GM cake by Ford.

Ford Resuming Work
Reuther's decision to put immediate pressure on Chrysler came as the UAW virtually completed settlement of a strike that had shut down Ford for 13 days. Ford resumed production Monday at half of its 16 assembly plants with the recall of 55,000 workers.

The company expected to have almost all its 120,000 hourly workers back on the job Wednesday, an EL Paso neuro-psychiatrist, in Cody's defense.

The union's bargaining strategy at Chrysler was mapped Monday afternoon by Reuther in a meeting at his suburban home with UAW Vice President Norman Matthews, director of the union's Chrysler Department, and their aides.

Earlier in the negotiations Reuther turned to Page 12, Col. 7.

Resort Operator Killed When Auto Collides With Horse

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A northern Wisconsin resort operator was killed Monday night when his car collided with a horse on a highway near Hurley. His death raised the state's 1961 traffic toll to 292 compared with 676 on this day one year ago.

Eugene Hutter, 55, operator of Hutter's Lake View Resort at Manitowish Waters in Vilas County, died of a skull fracture Monday night when his car collided with a heavy draft horse that bolted onto U.S. Highway 51, eight miles south of Hurley.

Iron County authorities said the horse, used in logging operations, fell on the automobile just above the driver's seat, caving in the roof. Hutter's foot was on the brake when the car came to a halt 50 feet from the point of impact. His wife, who was seated alongside him, escaped injury but was treated for shock. The horse was killed.

Arson Quiz Asked In 3 Barn Fires

RACINE (AP) — An arson investigation by the state fire marshal has been requested after separate fires destroyed three barns in a three-mile central Racine County area.

Union Grove-Yorkville fire Chief Harmon Swantz requested the investigation Monday after fire destroyed the barn on the John Murrow farm, causing estimated damage of $30,000 to the structure, and burning 50 tons of hay and an undetermined amount of straw.

Fires last week destroyed barns on the White Plains and John Nelson farms, causing total damage of $300,000.

McGuffey Reader to Stay, Board Decides

TWIN LAKES, Wis. (AP) — The school board members who favor school board of this Kenosha County community voted 4-1 Monday night to retain use of the 82-year-old McGuffey Reader despite a threat of legal action to remove both the reader and the board.

More than 250 persons overflowed the village hall, some of them listening outside through open windows as the issue was debated.

Edward J. Zahn, a Burlington attorney representing the 300-member Twin Lakes Taxpayers Alliance, declared at the reader is not removed from the Lakeview School within seven days, he will request State Superintendent of Public Instruction Angus Rothwell, acting under a state constitutional provision preventing sectarian teaching in public schools, to deny, said he did not favor use of the McGuffey Reader because "it entails a lot of work for the students to comprehend them."

Carrier, Tanker in Collision East of Charleston, S.C.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Randolph and the Liberian tanker American Vision collided Monday night 325 miles east of Charleston, S.C., the Navy reported today.

No one on either ship was injured seriously, a naval spokesman said.

The carrier sustained a 30-foot long gash in her left side 125 feet from her bow and 25 feet above her waterline. There was no word here on the tanker's damage.

The collision ruptured a gasoline line on the carrier, causing a flash fire which was put out in less than five minutes. Several firefighters received minor injuries, the spokesman reported.

One seaman on the tanker was reported suffering from shock. He was treated by a physician and a hospital corpsman who were transferred from the Randolph to the tanker by the destroyer Conway.

Navy Studies Area Used by Soviet Subs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A stretch of the Atlantic used by Soviet submarines will get close scrutiny from a seven-ship U.S. Navy anti-submarine force.

Deployment of the group was announced Monday by the Navy. The announcement said the carrier Essex and six destroyers will go to the area, believed to be northwest of the British Isles, in November for an antisubmarine warfare exercise and stay there for an indefinite period.

Pressure for Economy

"This is exactly what the President intends to submit to the Congress in January," Dillon told the bankers.

Dillon said President Kennedy has intensified his pressure on federal agencies for strictest economy and the postponement of spending and already has produced what he called substantial savings.

The fiscal 1962 budget sent to Congress in January by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower showed a $1.5-billion surplus. Democrats criticized the budget as "political" and "unrealistic."

The new administration revised it to show a $2 billion deficit.

In July the Berlin crisis prompted Kennedy's request, quickly granted by Congress, for stepped-

He entered the University of Wisconsin that fall, but interrupted his education for two years.

Nuclear Testing
Khrushchev told the Congress the Soviet Union had been forced to resume nuclear testing because of the sharp international tensions the Western powers had created around the world, especially in Germany.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union will not insist on signing a German peace treaty by the end of this year — as he had threatened earlier — "if the Western powers display readiness to settle the German problem."

But the Soviet premier declared that "the German peace treaty must be and will be signed, with the Western powers or without."

Won't Insist on Peace Pact by Yearend if West Agrees to Settle Problem

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev announced today that the Soviet Union will explode a nuclear bomb equivalent to 50 million tons of TNT Oct. 31.

It was the first time the Kremlin had given advance notice of a nuclear explosion.

"We have a 100-million-ton bomb," Khrushchev told the opening session of the 22nd Soviet Communist Party Congress, "but we do not intend to explode it."

"If we happen to explode it in the wrong place, we might break our own windows," Khrushchev continued. "May God grant that we never have to explode such a bomb."

The Soviet Union, in announcing Aug. 31 that it was resuming nuclear weapon tests, said its scientists had worked out projects for building bombs with explosive power of up to 100 million tons of TNT, or 5,000 times the power of the U.S. bomb that devastated Hiroshima. The biggest bomb in the U.S. arsenal is believed to have a force of perhaps 20 million tons.

U.S. military experts said earlier that building a 100-million-ton bomb would not be particularly difficult but that it would not be worth the money.

Voroshilov Hit By Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev today denounced former President Klementi Y. Voroshilov as a leader of the antiparty group which fought efforts to downgrade Joseph Stalin and restore democracy to the Communist party.

It was the first time the 80-year-old elder statesman of the party has been so assailed, and it caused amazement among delegates at the opening session of the 22nd congress of the Communist party.

Khrushchev charged Voroshilov was "responsible for many acts of repression against members of the Communist party and of the Young Communist League." He said Voroshilov had joined in a struggle to keep repressive measures operating as they were in Stalin's day and tried to prevent improvements in the well-being of the Soviet people.

Yugoslavia Fears U.S. Policy Change

Belgrade Note Comes in Response To Outcry Over Sale of Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yugo-slavia was reported today to have asked the United States if it is co-operation—between the two changing its policy toward the Communist country and expressed the hope that it would not.

Informants said the Belgrade note came in response to the outcry here over the U.S. sale to Yugoslavia of 130 surplus Sabre jet fighter planes.

Yugoslav diplomats, the informant said, fear a change in U.S. policy toward President Tito's government might put Yugoslavia in a diplomatic no-man's land between East and West.

Unconfirmed State Department officials would not confirm receipt of the note.

Informants said that Tito's government had expressed the hope there will be no change in basic relations—including U.S. economic cooperation—between the two countries.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Monday a current review of U.S.-Yugoslav relations "goes into all aspects of assistance to Yugoslavia."

The Tito regime recently asked the United States to consider selling to Yugoslavia some additional surplus agricultural commodities with payment to be in Yugoslav currency. To date the United States has not agreed to negotiate this request.

Close Examination

Further, U.S. officials said any new Yugoslav request for economic help would receive close examination, although the United States does not intend to stop any commitments now in the process of delivery.

It has been reported that President Kennedy was urged by Tito's stand at the Belgrade conference of 25 unaligned nations. Tito's speech at the conference tended to support Soviet policies.

Diplomatic sources said Kennedy had made known his views in a sharply worded memorandum handed to the Yugoslav leader by U.S. Ambassador George F. Kennan last month.

Belgrade replied in a memorandum stating that Yugoslavia's position had not changed. But this apparently failed to clear the atmosphere.

'Cold' Meeting

A meeting followed between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic. The meeting, held at the United Nations, was described as courteous but cold.

It is understood the Yugoslavs anticipate some loud abuse from Moscow during the current Communist party meeting in Moscow, probably from Soviet Premier Khrushchev himself.

Informants said Yugoslav diplomats are wondering if the U.S. will continue to liberally isolate the country from both East and West at the same time.

Full Story Untold on Gen. Walker

NEW YORK (AP)—Maj. Arch E. Roberts says "the full story has not been told" about the education program that led to removal of Gen. Edwin A. Walker from his command in Germany.

Maj. Roberts, himself relieved as an Army information officer, said he wrote the educational program used by Walker but the Army never called him as a witness in its probe.

'No Idea Why'

"I certainly could have supplied some information," he said.

Roberts also said in an interview Monday that he had "no idea why" he was not called to testify.

"I feel that the full story has not been told. Some things have been misrepresented," he said.

Political Activity

Walker was removed from his command of the 24th Division in Germany last spring for alleged political activity in connection with his program to train troops and dependents in opposing communism.

Robert said the program "has been maligned. It's still being identified as a 'Birch-centered operation, as sailing the Birch line, but this is a lie."

The John Birch Society is a controversial ultraconservative movement.

Firing of Polaris Missile From New Sub Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The USS Ethan Allen, largest of the Polaris-firing atomic submarines, scored a success on its first underwater firing of one of the rockets.

The Ethan Allen launched the Polaris from 90 feet beneath the surface of the Atlantic Ocean about 300 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral Monday.

The Defense Department has a policy of not releasing information on Polaris submarine shots, but sources close to the project reported all test objectives were met on the 1,200-mile flight.

Five earlier nuclear subs are now on station, each with 16 nuclear-tipped Polaris.

The Ethan Allen is the first submarine built to handle the advanced Polaris A2 model, with a range of 1,725 miles. The others carry the 1,380-mile A1 rocket.

Dirksen Says Kennedy Plan 'Not Clicking'

Senator Convinced Heavy Spending Will Unbalance Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today a cross-country tour has convinced him President Kennedy's legislative program "isn't clicking with the people."

Dirksen suggested in an interview that this is why Kennedy has arranged a series of conferences next month in all sections of the country at which Cabinet members and assistants will try to stir up interest in the New Frontiers program.

Fear of Spending

"From what people have told me in the Middle West, the Far West and the South," Dirksen said, "the Kennedy program just isn't clicking with the people. There is real fear of excessive spending which will continue to unbalance the budget."

"This could lead to recreating inflationary pressures, with all of the trouble that spells for the economy."

Kennedy told his news conference last week that he retains a "strong desire" to balance the budget for the year beginning next July 1. But he said he could not predict what military demands would arise which might make this impossible.

Not Much Hope

The President said a decision will be made later "as to how much we can cut from nondefense expenditures." But Dirksen said he doesn't have much hope that any major reductions will be proposed by the White House in that field.

In addition, the Republican leader said he is certain that what he called built-in increases in outlays will add materially to the difficulties of balancing the budget. He noted that several programs, begun this year with modest expenditures, will draw much more heavily on the treasury next year.

Dirksen predicted that Republicans will make budget balancing their prime domestic issue in 1962. He added that he expects almost solid GOP support for efforts to cut back the cost of programs.

'Red Carpet Treatment' for Smiling Camel Cart Driver Continues Today

He was delighted with the horse and nessesmen made his trip to the sitting on a davenport. You don't feel the horse at all. You just feel leather." In Pakistan Bashir rides bareback.

At the Johnson City School students swarmed around Johnson and the camel driver. Bashir told the crowd "I have a little advice for you. When I was young, politics is a dirty business should I did not have an opportunity to go to school. You have the opportunity. Please make the most of it so you can make this a better world." "If you ever come to Pakistan, please look me up."

Johnson was on a tour of Pakistan when he stopped the camel driver in a crowd, shook hands with him, and invited him to this country. Bashir promptly accepted. Dartmouth Class of '30, accepted.

Honolulu Oil Corp. Selling Out Today For $362 Million

Firm Began 53 Years Ago When Capt. Matson Needed New Fuel

BY LEIF ERICKSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An oil company which started 53 years ago because Capt. William Matson wanted the scarce new fuel for his pioneer shipping fleet is selling out Wednesday for the tidy sum of $362 million.

The reason: Oil has glutted the modern world's markets.

Since Matson drilled his first California well in 1908, his Honolulu Oil Corp. has grown to be the third largest independent producer in America, with properties in six states, including Alaska, and in Canada.

Antitrust Suit

The liquidation deal—beset for weeks by a federal antitrust suit and tax-ruling uncertainties—is scheduled to be completed in contract-signing ceremonies at Wilmington, Del.

Deciding to sell the producing and reserve properties and negotiating the purchase agreements with Tidewater Oil Co. and Pan American Oil Co., a Standard Oil (Ind.) subsidiary, proved far simpler for Honolulu Oil's management and stockholders than winding up the deal.

With no refineries or retail marketing, Honolulu Oil depended almost entirely on selling its crude oil production to integrated companies.

With crude prices depressed by high world production and increased foreign oil imports, Honolulu Oil's management and stockholders chose to sell out to integrated companies rather than risk trying to go into refining and marketing on its own.

Purchase Bids

Purchase bids were called for last February, and Honolulu Oil directors approved last May the offers by Tidewater, Pan American Oil, and other companies totaling $362.1 million.

L. A. Cranson, president, admitted the Alumn Council's award — a silver bowl — and a citation describing him as an "outstanding leader in culture, commerce, international affairs and as governor of New York State."

Gov. Nelson Stands for Tax Revision

Gov. Nelson's speech at the Democratic Party convention in Eau Claire Saturday night was firm, courageous and statesmanlike. He was facing an audience of Democratic leaders including many officeholders, many potential candidates for office, and many who may serve as chairmen or leaders in various campaigns. These persons have been sold on the idea that the Democrats can win the next election in a campaign which does nothing more than promise to resist the introduction of the sales tax in Wisconsin.

During the afternoon meeting they had booed and finally voted down a proposal by Atty. James E. Doyle of Madison which would have recognized the work of Gov. Nelson's citizens tax advisory committee which had recommended, among many other things, a 2 per cent general sales tax. Doyle was attempting to find a way for further compromise between Gov. Nelson and the Republican legislative committee which has been trying to work out some sort of an agreement to finance Wisconsin's needs during the next two years. But the convention would have nothing to do with any talk of compromise with the Republicans or with a sales tax.

Thus, when Gov. Nelson faced the same audience at a banquet in the evening he knew there was no chance of winning any support for a sales tax even one called a luxury tax. He was there not to argue further with the delegates but to tell them what he felt would be necessary for him to do in the future.

He did so in these words: "The time has come to put aside slogans and catch phrases. To achieve constructive tax revision we must give as well as take. I am prepared for honest compromise."

"In these negotiations I will not be bound by old slogans and political folklore. I shall be bound by facts and figures that speak for themselves. I will not follow any line of political obstructionism for partisan advance as some would have me do. I will not participate in any course of action that results in an expedient and across the board cut in the state budget. This would do grave damage to state and local services and institutions. Furthermore, I will not contribute to any situation which would cause a stalemate and throw us into a fiscal crisis such as occurred in our neighboring state."

The governor in that statement put his finger upon the possible result of failure to work out a successful compromise which has been feared by every responsible citizen of Wisconsin. The people of Wisconsin are well aware of the difficulties experienced by Gov. Williams in Michigan a few years ago. Michigan was unable to work out a tax compromise between the Republican legislature and the Democratic governor with the result that it was threatened with payless paydays for its schools and for the employees of the state. It succeeded in keeping going only because the large industrial firms in Michigan came forward and paid advances on their next year's taxes. The state of Michigan was seriously damaged by publicity from coast to coast reporting that the state was bankrupt. This could happen in Wisconsin and we have no doubt that if it does it will be much more serious for this state than it was for Michigan. The governor, in mentioning this fact to the delegates, no doubt intended to impress them with the reason for his determination to compromise with the Republican legislature in order to work out some form of tax revision.

It should be noted that not all of the good will in seeking a compromise was on the side of Gov. Nelson. Only a few weeks ago the Republican legislative leaders came back to Madison from their state convention and announced publicly that they would ignore the instructions of the convention and continue to seek a compromise with the governor. The Republican convention had ordered them to stand fast against any compromise on the withholding of income taxes. Nevertheless, defying the state convention, they did offer a tax withholding plan in the hope of winning the governor's support for their tax bill.

The governor, however, vetoed the bill but held out some hope that it would be possible to reach an agreement. Negotiations now are in progress seeking that agreement and we think a certain amount of admiration is due the governor for his stand against the obvious desires of delegates to the Democratic convention. Later on in his address the governor said, "Now I have told you, as best I can, what I intend to do. You may not like what I have said. If so, I regret it deeply but just remember this, the Democratic Party does not stand or fall with me. You can get other candidates and other leaders but I stand or fall by my conscience. It is easier for you to get another candidate than it is for me to get another conscience."

The governor's words indicate quite clearly that he intends to make a genuine effort to reach an agreement with the Republican legislative leaders. There can be no doubt that he intends to accept some form of sales tax as part of this agreement. It should be said also that the legislative leaders indicated a similar determination to compromise when they came back from their convention and wrote into their measure a form of tax withholding in an effort to win the support of Gov. Nelson.

Many people may think it is wrong for the legislative leaders in the Republican Party and a governor in the Democratic Party to defy the state conventions which presumably are the voices of the people. However, it should be noted that government by rabble or the mob, even though it may have the appearance of true democracy, is not good government. There always comes a time when the leaders must assert themselves and lead. That time has come in Wisconsin and it appears that both the governor and the Republican legislative leaders have accepted their responsibilities and intend to carry them out.

Mr. Byrnes in Congress

Rep. John W. Byrnes has issued his report to the people of the 8th Congressional District of Wisconsin on his voting and attendance record for the first session of the 87th Congress. The report tells how he voted and how he responded to quorum calls on 231 occasions since the Kennedy administration came into office.

With the Kennedy administration launching its new program with a 261 to 174 majority in the House and a 64 to 36 majority in the Senate, action has been fast and furious. However, it will not be necessary for Mr. Byrnes' constituents to search the Congressional Record to determine how he voted on the principal issues. He has compiled his record in a 4-page leaflet giving all roll call votes and all quorum calls with the purpose of showing "in one place and in concise form" information which is scattered through some 20,000 pages of the Congressional Record.

This is the fifteenth report on voting and attendance issued by Congressman Byrnes. It shows his vote on 1,921 questions in the House of Representatives and indicates by the quorum calls an attendance record of 94 per cent over the years he has served in Congress.

In forwarding this report to his constituents, Mr. Byrnes points out that the bills are listed under descriptions giving the official titles of the bills which often may not reflect the true purpose and nature of the legislation. He offers, however, to furnish to any interested person more complete information concerning any particular bill as well as a summary of the issues involved and the reason for his vote.

In his letter to his constituents which accompanied the report, Mr. Byrnes remarked that "a spending Congress gave the administration most, if not all, it asked for. It appropriated $95 billion, $13 billion more than last year, yet this huge sum was $5 billion less than the President asked for. It authorized $19.7 billion backdoor spending, yet this vast amount was $5 billion less than requested. It authorized new programs whose cost will mount in future years. As a result, we face a $7-$10 billion deficit this year and a $100 billion budget in the foreseeable future. Washington has run out of office space to house its share of the 100,000 new federal employees who have been added since January."

In a recent letter, Mr. Byrnes, in commenting upon the wisdom of foreign aid and the waste that may be found in it, stated that he had regularly voted to authorize our mutual security or foreign aid programs. He said that, although it put a burden on American taxpayers and while he often was aghast at the waste and mismanagement which had taken place, he was convinced that it was essential for our national security during the time of grave danger. Moreover, he said "I have been convinced that its continuation would not save money; it would instead require vastly increased defense expenditures at home as we lost the manpower, bases and support of our allies abroad."

Even so, Mr. Byrnes reports that he has consistently voted to keep the program within bounds and to eliminate waste wherever possible.

Memphis Has Good Word For the Press

From The Memphis, Tenn. Commercial Appeal

Memphis desegregation in four of its public schools last Tuesday was acknowledged calmly and fairly in most of the nation's press.

"We have made a spot check of newspapers from throughout the country. In a few instances it appears wire editors ignored the Memphis story. Most major newspapers which used the story carried it on inside pages. Southern newspapers more often placed it on page one.

"Two wire associations dispatched the news from Memphis to the rest of the nation. The Associated Press version was favored by most news editors. It began,

"A century of segregation ended in Memphis Tuesday when 15 Negro first graders were admitted to white schools guarded by a massive police turnout."

"Memphis can be proud that it has preserved its image of integrity, calm and dignity in a difficult time."

"The nation's press objectively and without sensationalism, has helped Memphis keep that image."

Patent Office Marks 125th Year As Pilot of American Progress

WASHINGTON — When the United States Patent Office was set up in 1836, the steam locomotive's lonely whistle was just beginning to be heard across the land.

This year, on its 125th anniversary, satellites circle the earth, and scientists test vehicles which they hope will take man to the moon.

Between the eras of rail and space, the American patent system has given order and direction to the nation's inventive talents, says the National Geographic Society. By adding "the fuel of interest to the fire of genius" (Lincoln), it has sparked countless industries and helped build an unparalleled standard of living.

Research System Created
American Patent Incentive Week, Oct. 15 - 22, was proclaimed by the President as a public salute to the system established by Congress on July 4, 1836.

A special government bureau was created to pass on the usefulness and novelty of inventions and processes. For the first time, an official search of "prior arts" was required before granting patents.

But though this method of handling patents was new, they had been issued in America from early Colonial times. In 1641, the Massachusetts General Court approved a patent to Samuel Winslow for a new way of making salt. Five years later, a scythe manufacturer, Joseph Jencks, received the continent's first machine patent, for equipment used in his water-driven mill.

Encouraged Inventions
The Founding Fathers of the independent nation encouraged inventiveness as an essential aid to development. Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson themselves made notable contributions, as Franklin's lightning rod and stove and Jefferson's efficient soil-turning plow testify.

Written into the Constitution was the provision that "Congress shall have Power . . . to promote the Progress of Science and useful Arts by securing for limited Times to Authors and Inventors the exclusive Right to their respective Writings and Inventions."

Congress passed its first patent act in 1790. It gave the United States the distinction of leading all other countries in recognizing an inventor's legal right to profit from his labor.

Grew by Trial, Error
To administer the law, the secretary of state, attorney general, and secretary of war constituted a 3-man board charged with passing on the merit and priority of applications. Naturally enough, these top government leaders found little time to devote to the technicalities of individual patents.

In 1793 a second act dropped the merit requirement in favor of a "registration" system under which practically anyone with a drawing and a fee could obtain a patent.

The result was confusion, duplication, and litigation that ended only in 1836 with the adoption of the present system. The new policy called for numbering, examining, and recording applications. Appropriately, the first patent went to Maine's Sen. John Ruggles, who has led in the reform bill's passage.

Sen. Ruggles' invention, designed to add traction to railway-locomotive wheels, was a sign of the times. From then on, as the railroads stitched an expanding country together, the patents filed in Washington recorded America's drive toward industrial pre-eminence.

Before 1836, Eli Whitney's cotton gin and Cyrus McCormick's grain reaper began pouring generous harvests into the maw of a vigorous agricultural economy. Afterward came the scientific discoveries and tools that made the great modern industries possible.

Revolutions in living and working followed the introduction of Morse's telegraph, Bell's telephone, Edison's incandescent lamp, phonograph, and movie projector. Eras were born with the trolley car, horseless carriage, and flying machine; with new ways to treat rubber, make celluloid, and shape glass; with the sewing machine, typewriter,

Appeal Made to County Women

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Oct. 19, 1861.

It is suggested that societies be formed at once in every neighborhood where they already are not yet established and that existing societies, as Dorcas Societies, Sewing Societies, Reading Clubs and Sociables, devote themselves for a time to the sacred service of their country.

Energetic and respectable committees should be organized to call from house to house, from store to store and obtain contributions in materials or money for the purchase of materials. Contribution boxes should be placed in post offices, newspaper offices, railroad and telegraph offices, public houses, steamboats and ferry boats and all other suitable places and labelled "For our Sick and Wounded."

All loyal women should meet at convenient times and places as agreed upon in each neighborhood and social circle to work upon the materials that are procured.

Every woman in the county can at least knit a pair of woolen stockings, or, if not, purchase them. In each town let there be a concert of effort, taking care that three or four sizes are produced. Fix upon a place for receiving and a date when a package will be transmitted and send it as soon as possible to the most convenient depots of the Commission.

Needed are blankets for single beds; quilts about seven feet long and 50 inches wide; knit woolen socks; woolen or cotton flannel bed gowns, wrappers, undershirts and drawers; small hair and feather pillows and cushions for wounded limbs; slippers and delicacies for the sick such as farina, arrow root, corn starch, cocoa, nicely dried fruits and jellies.

25 YEARS AGO

Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1936

Declaring that its aim was more normal trade relations, the United States government put into effect what Sec. of the Treasury Morgenthau termed "a new kind of gold standard."

Organized labor wanted for John L. Lewis' answer to an offer of the American Federation of Labor to talk peace with his committee on industrial organization.

Mrs. William Semacheck was elected regent of Court Ave. Maria, No. 1011, Catholic Daughters of America.

Mrs. Kai P. Schuhart was installed as president of James P. Hawley post auxiliary, No. 33, of the American Legion. The installing officer was Mrs. A. A. Weiss, Ford du Lac, president of the Sixth district.

Set Carl Radtke, head of the traffic detail of the Appleton Police department, went to Evanston, Ill., to attend the fourth annual Northwestern University traffic officers' training school.

Realism Takes Over In State Tax Dispute

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Aside from the outcome of the Republican-Democratic tax compromise talks now underway at the capitol, which is doubtful at best, the three years of incessant public and political discussion of the Wisconsin tax problem have not been wasted.

The impatient taxpayer out in the state may occasionally wonder where the gain has been, noting that after weary months there is yet no real semblance of a harmonizing of the conflict of the parties.

The gain, and it is a real one, is in the attitude of the politicians who rule and who sooner or later, in one way or another, will be compelled to make the decision about raising additional revenues and about adjusting the respective degrees of reliance upon the various forms of taxation.

The problem of the personal property tax provides one illustration.

The political attitude on the income surtax is another, only a little less useful.

THE MIRACLE

It is something of a miracle, indeed, that the two parties of Wisconsin now are agreed that something must be done to relieve those who are subject to the notorious personal property tax.

It is only slightly less remarkable, in the face of the big deficit that looms and the increasing demands of the spending agencies, that not a single politician now holding office in the state government has yet offered a higher surtax bill which in earlier eras was as automatic as the political handshake.

While they are reluctant to discuss details, the politicians by indirection have agreed that the tax base must be broadened.

The Democrats and other liberals who in previous years used to regard the word "surtax" as a kind of stumping synonym for "taxing the rich" now are offering bills to raise regular income tax liability on the lower brackets of personal income, which has a precisely opposite impact.

The Democratic conversion to tax reform is the more significant, in the perspective of Wisconsin politics of the last generation. The Republicans, perhaps because they held power and were more familiar with the facts of their fiscal responsibilities, have tended for some time to a greater realism in their taxation attitudes.

PERSONA PROPERTY

Gov. Nelson and other Democrats now are prepared to advocate substantial relief of the personal property tax, not to the degree that the Republicans probably would want if they had the power to decide, but significantly, nevertheless. It must be remembered that this is primarily a gain for the Main street businessman, who is the Republicans' ally if he has any strong political predilections.

But the evidence has been accumulating for so long and the clamor has become so great, that the Democrats without any assurance of immediate ballot rewards are moving in the direction of tax reform. If they bring it off, they can lay some legitimate claim to having faced up to their responsibilities and the total welfare of the state.

All of this is not to say that these reforms will be achieved. There is many a barrier between endorsing the idea of a 50 per cent personal property tax cut and achieving it. The politician who doesn't want to resort again to the weary old surtax device may yet be required to do so, in the uncertain political balance that prevails.

But the attitude is meaningful, and hopeful.

It shows that whatever happens in the taxation imbroglio this year, there is reason for believing that reform is on the way. When the politicians in office, facing the next election in an uncertain year react in such realistic fashion, progress is being made.

$1 Trillion Of Assets — Or Debts?

From The Houston Chronicle

Americans own financial assets worth a trillion dollars, Fortune reports.

Regarding that, we felt good for a moment — a very brief moment. But then we recalled that last year Maurice Stans, who was director of the budget at the time, reported that the United States owes — one trillion dollars. That includes, besides the national debt proper, other government obligations and social security commitments.

Alcoholics Treated At State Hospital

Superintendent Would Prefer To Concentrate on Mentally Ill

WINNEBAGO — Psychiatrists have tried and have failed miserably in dealing with alcoholism. This was the observation of a psychiatrist, Dr. Charles H. Belcher, superintendent of the Winnebago State Hospital here.

One-fourth of his patients are alcoholics. He feels that Winnebago State Hospital is not the place for them. Since the hospital is short-staffed, Dr. Belcher would prefer to have the state mental hospital concentrate its facilities and personnel only on psychotic cases.

"This is the reason for our being," he continued. "But we are a social institution and should treat all. It probably is not our right to say what we will do. The hospital is a function of the state government and we must carry out the wishes of the legislature."

Of the 376 inebriates admitted to Winnebago State Hospital during the last year, one out of three was a readmission. One out of five had been admitted to the hospital for treatment as an alcoholic four or more times. One had been admitted for his 15th time.

"If an alcoholic is well-motivated, he has a good chance to be cured," Dr. Belcher proffered. "Many alcoholics sent here won't quit."

Many of these readmissions were persons without a regular home life or a family, he added. "Alcoholics Anonymous has an active chapter here."

New Idea Offered

He mentioned that at a recent state department public welfare meeting at Madison, an idea was offered to move all the alcoholics in the various state mental hospitals into a central place, such as a reforestry camp or some facility.

Such a facility could be staffed by sociologists and psychologists who would be like probation personnel. It would not need the psychiatrists.

"Alcoholism is a social problem and should be handled by social workers rather than by physicians," Dr. Belcher maintained.

He called attention to work by the Seattle, Wash., police department which has a building set aside for just alcoholics. Policemen and others work with these alcoholics in various types of therapy, recreational and occupational, to rehabilitate them and return them to society. Such a program he said appealed to him.

During its last fiscal year Winnebago State Hospital had 2,006 admissions. Twenty-five per cent of these are psychotics, 25 per cent are alcoholics, 23 per cent are geriatric cases and the balance are admitted for various reasons such as for observation.

Children Die When Fire Sweeps Auto

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Mrs. Joe E. Thompson of Albuquerque left her three small children in the car while she went to the doctor. Also in the car, owned by a family friend, was a can of gasoline used to prime the carburetor.

Joey Thompson, 5, told firemen his 2-year-old brother, Chuck, spilled the gasoline. Then, he said Valerie, 4, struck a match.

The younger children died in the burning car. A passerby, Frank Lindsey, was able to open the driver's door and pull Joey out by the head.

Oshkosh Man Gets Six Months in Jail

OSHKOSH — Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane Monday sentenced William Broege, 78, 503 Waugoo Ave., to six months in the Winnebago County Jail after Broege admitted being an habitual drunkard.

Broege was arrested by Oshkosh police Saturday night after he was found lying on Ceape Avenue. He had been in court numerous times on drunkenness charges. The most recent occasion was Wednesday.

Badgers in Washington

Philleo Nash 'Enchanted' by His New Job, Indian Affairs Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Philleo Nash says he is enchanted by his new job as Commissioner of Indian Affairs "and I am working harder than ever before in my life."

Nash, former lieutenant governor of Wisconsin, has had various roles in the federal government dating back to 1942, including a post of special assistant in the White House from 1946-52 under President Harry S. Truman. But now, he gives the impression he likes better standard of living.

Nash heads up a major establishment, nominated by President Kennedy to head up the Indian Bureau, was confirmed by the Senate shortly before Congress quit for the year.

Asked what his main problem appears to be, Nash replied: "Trying to get the bureau retooled for economic development."

Main Goal

He indicated the main goal will be to get programs under way that will give the Indians a chance for more income, better education and training, and a generally better standard of living.

Nash said he favors the idea of termination of federal control over Indians. But he feels strongly that this step should not be taken until the Indians are economically ready for the responsibility of being on their own.

This question of termination came up at August hearings of the Senate Interior Committee on the Nash nomination. Some senators believe more Indian tribes should be freed from federal guardianship. But Nash apparently satisfied the committee on this point.

Now that he has been confirmed, he undoubtedly will have this as one of his major problems.

This is his current thinking: "You cannot rush headlong into this termination of federal control. Some say 'get out of this business without having the Indians ready for it, instance, previously cost around $54, which is more than a third of an industrial worker's monthly wage."

Prices Cut On Clothing In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary's Communist regime decreed unprecedented price cuts on men's, women's and children's knitwear, on rayon goods, dresses, boys and girls' suits, men's top coats, scarves, handbags, toys and cosmetics.

The ministry gave no explanation for its action, but presumably shops are not meeting their planned sales figures in these items, so the prices had to be dropped more in line with the average citizen's spending capacity.

An all-wool lady's cardigan, for instance, previously cost around $54, which is more than a third of an industrial worker's monthly wage.

Moon Excursions by 1975-80 Predicted

'If Children are Eager to Go Rocketing Into Space, Tell Them to Save Money'

NEW YORK (AP)—If your children are eager to go rocketing into space, tell them to start saving their money.

Commercial manned space flights could be a reality by 1975-80, a space researcher predicted.

Reduced Costs

Space transportation techniques are expected to develop rapidly in the next 20 years, greatly reducing the cost of a round-trip from earth into an orbit, or to the moon, said H. H. Koelle of the George E. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala.

This could be the timetable, Koelle told the space flight report to the nation sponsored by the American Rocket Society: Large, orbiting space stations carrying men in 1968-69. A permanent, manned station on the moon, 1970. A lunar settlement by 1975. Manned expeditions to other planets starting in the 1972-74 period.

Round-trips from earth to low latitude orbits involving 5,000 men every year by 1975. Several men would be involved in each trip. About 500 annual man round-trips from earth to moon by 1975. Commercial manned space flights developing in the 1973-80 period.

"It will be witnessed by the middle-aged generation of today, with the younger generation of today taking an active part in it," Koelle suggested.

His prepared paper did not estimate the cost of the round-trip ticket into orbital flight or to the moon.

Work Resumed at '10 Downing Street'

LONDON (AP)—Four hundred building workers resume face-lift operations on Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's official residence Tuesday with assurance that they can continue to break for tea on company time.

The workers have been on strike for two weeks over emulating their employers' efforts to curtail morning and afternoon tea breaks and the lunch period. The employers dropped their threat when the men agreed not to dawdle over lunch or tea.

The workers are renovating the prime minister's residence at No. 10 Downing St. The prime minister, meanwhile, is living at Admiralty House nearby.

Lucey Stronger in Eau Claire Vote

Nelson May be State Party Head, Chairman Has More Delegates

By JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Chairman Patrick J. Lucey and Gov. Gaylord Nelson have publicly agreed that the governor is the head of the party in Wisconsin, but Lucey's position as party machine leader appears to be strengthened as the result of district and state-wide Democratic committee elections at the Eau Claire party delegate convention last weekend.

About two-thirds of the new state committee membership roster is regarded as friendly to Lucey, or closely allied to him through past performance and personal relations. The others might be regarded as primarily "Nelson men" in the event that there is another eruption of rivalry or hostility between the party chairman and the governor as the party's titular leader.

Pair Agree
A month ago Nelson publicly challenged Lucey and tried to depose him by getting another candidate to run for the chairmanship. That effort died when Nelson's candidate was forced to withdraw and the governor and associate of long standing, ran far ahead of the field in the voting they had resolved their differences about how the party should be run and that the party should be subordinate to the governor in public policy-making.

But that declaration did not succeed in an actual healing of the party differences, as subsequent developments have shown. The most conspicuous example of its failure was the refusal of the convention at Eau Claire to moderate its attitude on the sales tax, as desired by Nelson.

Angry Meeting
It was shown again in some of the angry resistance to the election of Sen. Lynn Stalbaum of Racine, a Nelson man, as party vice-chairman in charge legislative affairs, to back up the work of Mrs. Marion Mc Bride of Milwaukee County, Lucey's original choice for the vice chairmanship.

Nelson originally had backed Assemblyman Frank Nicolay, who later was ordered into active service with the Wisconsin National Guard, for the party organization command. While the voting for state committee members at the convention provided no sure measure of the respective Lucey-Nelson strength among the local party workers, the vote trends were observed with unusual interest, nevertheless.

Lucey Strength
It was noted that Mrs. Shirley Cherkasky of Appleton, a Lucey associate of long standing, ran far ahead of the field in the voting for member-at-large of the state party committee. It was noted also that John Nicolay of Clark County, brother of Nelson's withdrawn candidate for the chairmanship, ran fifth in the list of seven at-large members elected.

Among the district party chiefs who are known to be strong allies of Lucey are Al Charapata of Oshkosh, Howard Hazen of Green Bay, in the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth districts, respectively. The party stands committed to an enormous organization effort in upcoming months in preparation for the 1962 election campaigns. Lucey who has boasted of his record-breaking 20,000 dues-payers now has as his goal 50,000 active and financially contributing workers.

The unprecedented goal is admittedly a reflection of a realization of party insiders that the 1962 will be an unusually hard one for the Democrats against a re-viving Republican organization in a traditionally Republican state.

Dr. E. F. Mielke became affiliated with Dr. Bolton in 1923. In 1949 Mrs. Bolton and Mielke built a clinic at 215 W. Lawrence St. Although Dr. Bolton did general practice, he was primarily a surgeon. He averaged about 300 operations a year for more than 20 years, until forced to curtail his activities in the late 1940's because of ill health.

He also did much experimental surgery on dogs, operating on about 200 dogs.

Dr. Bolton served on the school board at Chilton for many years, as its only public officer. He was a former president, secretary and treasurer of the Outagamie County Medical Society, and a member of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin and the American Medical Association. He served at one time as president of the staff at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He was a Mason and a member of All Saints Episcopal Church. He served as a director of the YMCA for several years and was in the Appleton Chamber of Commerce board of directors for two terms.

Dr. Bolton was honored in 1953 by the Outagamie County Medical society for 30 years in the practice of medicine.

'Relatively Good Day' For Speaker Rayburn
DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn had a "relatively good day" Monday, but the House speaker, stricken with cancer, remains in serious condition.

Medical bulletins released by Rayburn Hospital, where Rayburn 79, has described a patient since Oct. 2, described him as alert and resting comfortably. The bulletins stressed there had been no major change in his condition.

Dr. Anthony R. Current, head of the Cancer Research Hospital at the University of Wisconsin, said at Houston that Rayburn's general condition must improve before he can receive any more treatments with the experimental drug 5-Fluorouracil or its derivative FUDR. The drug is aimed at prolonging life. Dr. Current saw Rayburn Sunday.

repel the enemies of freedom and peace." And he reiterated that the treaty must end the Western Allied occupation of West Berlin and convert it into a "free demilitarized" city.

Demands Equal Rights
He called once again for conclusion of a peace treaty with both West and East Germany and said both should be admitted to the United Nations.

He also demanded "genuinely equal rights in all U.N. agencies for the three groups of states that have come into being in the world since 1945: the capitalist, the socialist and imperialist." And he once again demanded that Red China get its "legitimate rights" in the United Nations.

On the question of a German peace treaty, Khrushchev said: "The Soviet government as before insists on the speediest solution of the German problem, it is against putting it off to infinity."

More Hopeful Tone
"If the Western powers display readiness to settle the German problem, the question of the time limit for the signing of a German peace treaty will not be so material; we shall not insist then that the peace treaty be signed by all means before Dec. 31, 1961."

Khrushchev said that judging from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's recent talks with President Kennedy and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, "we had the impression that the Western powers were displaying a certain understanding of the situation and that they were inclined to seek a solution for the German problem and the West Berlin issue on a mutually acceptable basis."

Khrushchev told the party congress — the first in two years — that the Soviet Union and its Communist allies "now possess a reliable defense for the great gains of socialism against the roads of imperialist aggressors."

Asks U.S. to End Strife
He called on the United States to "renounce the idea of settling disputes through war and to base international relations on the principle of peaceful economic competition."

"If realistic thinking gains the upper hand in United States policy," Khrushchev said, "a serious obstacle to a normal world situation will be removed. Such thinking will benefit not only the peoples of our two countries alone but those of other countries and the world peace."

The premier revived the Soviet proposal for a nonaggression pact between the countries of the Communist Warsaw treaty organization and those in the North Atlantic alliance. He also again endorsed the Polish Rapacki plan for atom-free Europe, "first of all in Europe and the Far East" and for "the establishment of a disengagement zone between the armed forces of military alignments."

"The Communists are against the export of revolution," the Soviet premier declared. But we do not recognize anybody's right to export imperialism or export counterrevolution. The Communists will call on the peoples of all countries to rally and firmly repel the enemies of freedom and peace."

New Party Program
Khrushchev's long speech was the highlight of the opening session of the congress called to give approval to the first new party program since 1919. This is a blueprint for communism to outstrip capitalism by 1980 and create a life in the Soviet Union so attractive that the non-Communist world will turn to communism by choice.

Reviewing the world situation before turning to the new party program, Khrushchev told the 4,408 voting delegates and 405 socialist delegates in the vast Kremlin Theater that capitalism cannot solve any of the urgent problems facing mankind and that the United States has lost its absolute supremacy in world commerce.

He claimed that "the continuation of the decay of capitalism has continued to operate ruthlessly" and today it is not "imperialism" but socialism that is becoming the decisive factor in world development.

Systems in Competition
The competition between the socialist and capitalist systems has become the pivot, the main feature of world development in the present period of history.

Khrushchev continued. But he said once more, as he has many times before, that wars between the United States and the Soviet Union are not inevitable and can be prevented.

"There is now a prospect of achieving peaceful coexistence of the entire period in which the social and political problems now being solved by the world will have to be solved," Khrushchev declared.

Khrushchev repeated a warning he has often given before, that "if the imperialists, in contradiction to all common sense, dare attack the socialist countries Communist allies 'now possess a reliable defense for the great gains of socialism against the roads of imperialist aggressors.'"

He claimed that one of the greatest strengths of the Communist countries was a higher rate of industrial development than that prevailing in capitalist countries. He said the industrial output of the socialist countries in 1960 was 6.8 times that of 1937, while the capitalist countries increased theirs less than 2.5 times.

He said that the socialist share of world industrial production was 27 per cent in 1955 and by 1960 it had increased to 36 per cent.

Socialism Gains
Today it is not imperialism with its wolfish habits but socialism with its ideals of peace and progress that is becoming the decisive factor in world development," Khrushchev declared.

"The socialist world does not fear any vicissitudes or upheavals, although world reaction is more and more turning to the idea of striking a blow at the socialist countries from the outside."

"The imperialists, of course, may set out on dangerous adventures, but they have no chance of success."

Khrushchev said the continuous decay of capitalism was shown best in the United States where there have been "two critical recessions" in five years and four such recessions during the post-war period. He said that the United States has lost its absolute supremacy in world capitalist production and commerce and now holds approximately the same position among the capitalist countries as it did before the war.

Britain, France, West Germany, the premier said there has been a noticeable weakening of Britain and France, while the defeated countries—West Germany and Japan—have taken a great leap forward.

Khrushchev claimed that a struggle between Britain and West German imperialism for supremacy in Western Europe "is growing fiercer. French imperialism, in its struggle against British imperialism, is attempting to find support in yesterday's enemy—the West German monopolies—his unnatural alliance, like a marriage of convenience, is more and more frequently turning against France herself."

Khrushchev said the chief aggressive force in the world today is the United States.

Lashes at U.S.
"The United States imperialists," he charged, "are acting in alliance with the West German militarists and revenge-seekers and are threatening the peace and security of the peoples."

Khrushchev predicted that the colonial system would completely disintegrate during the 1960s. He said the Soviet Union has been helping peoples struggling for national independence and that it would continue to do so.

The delegates broke into cheers and applause as the premier led the party's top leaders onto the big stage of the 6,000-seat Theater in the Kremlin Palace of Congresses, being used for the first time for this congress.

Introduces Foreigners
The applause continued as Khrushchev introduced the leaders of the 80 delegations from foreign Communist parties, led by Premier Chou En-lai of Red China.

There were two conspicuous absentees—Albania and Yugoslavia. Albania attended the Communist summit meeting last November but presumably is absent from the current congress because in recent months it has sided with Communist China in the ideological dispute between Peking and Moscow.

He said obviously because of nationalist limitations the Yugoslav leaders had left the straight path of communism and wandered into the swamp of revisionism. The Communist party, he said, has criticized and will continue to criticize the tendencies of Yugoslav Communist leaders.

said had added "a wholly unnecessary three-fourth billion to our overall deficit."

The summer's ideal growing conditions produced crops which set many records. Dillon went on, and caused steep increases in the Agriculture Department's budget.

The secretary brought better news about the other deficit which has plagued both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations—the deficit in international payments.

There is reason to hope this deficit can be held to about $2 billion this year, as against nearly $4 billion in each of the two preceding years, Dillon said.

The advance payment on debts by some European countries should reduce the net deficit to around $1.5 billion, he added.

The outflow of dollars for short-term investment continued at nearly the 1960 rate, Dillon said, but it has been a commercial movement of funds rather than speculation. Much of the money has gone to Japan to finance its growing imports.

State Labor Force Shows 20,000 Drop
MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's September labor force totaled 1,620,600, a drop of 20,000 from the month before, the State Industrial Commission reported Monday.

The commission said the dip was due primarily to seasonal farm workers leaving the state. Unemployment in mid-September stood at 56,800, a 28 per cent decline from the 78,900 reported jobless 30 days before, the commission said.

Authorities announced today at an international symposium sponsored by the International Atomic Energy Agency.

Survey Shows Office Work Second, Factory Work High

More than half the 1961 graduates of Appleton High School are attending schools or colleges this fall, according to the 37th annual follow-up survey of the class. Of the 596 students who graduated in 1961, 303 or 50.8 per cent entered universities, colleges, nursing and vocational schools as of Sept. 15.

Office work claimed the next highest number of students, with 69. Forty-five have gone into military service. Forty-two are doing factory and mill work, and 36 are working in retail stores.

The survey showed a great increase in the number of students attending the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center, up to 79 from 42 in 1960, while the number at the Madison campus dropped to 31 from 36 in 1960.

Attend Colleges
Of the graduates in school, 148 are in universities, 40 in state colleges, 70 in other colleges, seven in nursing schools and 28 in vocational schools. The number attending Lawrence College, 14, has doubled since 1960, after dropping from 18 in 1957.

The survey shows that the number of students entering office work has declined slightly, while there has been a distinct increase in the number doing mill and factory work, jumping from 24 in 1960 to 42.

3 Not Contacted
Only three graduates could not be contacted by the survey. Four have moved out of town. Ten are unemployed.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duval, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duval, Ph.D.

It depends upon the area of life that you're talking about. Men are more conservative about their clothing than are women — whose styles change every season. Women are more conservative about morals and personal conduct — with larger percentages of men overstepping the bounds of traditionally accepted moral standards than do women of the same educational and cultural level. So it is with many other areas of life — sometimes it is the men and sometimes the women who are the more conservative.

Is it possible for a child to ask for punishment?
Yes — No —
Quite possible. A youngster who is laboring under feelings of guilt over something bad which he feels he has done, may go out of his way to provoke an adult to punish him. Even punishment is easier to bear than burdens of anxiety and guilt. The adult who carries a chip on his shoulder, picks fights and gets angry over "nothing at all" is often in the same emotional fix. Recognizing these signs in ourselves and others is a good first step toward their correction.

As far as child discipline is concerned, learn the right approach from the booklet, "How to Discipline Your Children." A copy's yours for 25 cents and your name and address sent to this column, care of this newspaper.

Line Worker Escapes Death As Pole Falls
KAUKAUNA — Gerald Zastrow, 26, route 2, Menasha, an employee of Superior Electric Co., Appleton, escaped possible death about 15 a. m. Monday when a 40-foot pole on which he was working fell to the ground, carrying him with it.

Zastrow was working on a pole east of Kaukauna when the pole fell. He suffered a severe laceration of the left ear, a chip fracture of the right arm and multiple cuts and abrasions. His condition was reported as good at Kaukauna Community Hospital, where he was taken in the city ambulance. Witnesses said the pole narrowly missed hitting Zastrow's head.

Man Injured When Car Runs Off County Trunk
Robert Heckert, 47, 57 Foster Court, Appleton, received a cut lip, a possible broken nose and chest injuries at 4:50 a. m. Sunday when his car ran off the end of a road.

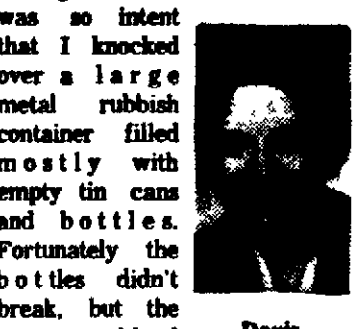

Heckert was traveling south on County Trunk A and missed the intersection with U.S. 10, knocking down a highway marker. He was treated and released from Appleton Memorial Hospital, authorities said.

Former Postmaster Makes Plea Change
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gregory C. Flately, 63, former Oconto Falls postmaster and one-time Assemblyman, changed his plea to guilty today to a charge of embezzling $3,180 in Post Office funds.
U.S. District Judge Kenneth Grubb ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

STOOPS TO CONQUER
While driving my car the other day, I was actually crawling looking for a house number. I was so intent that I knocked over a large metal rubbish container filled mostly with empty tin cans and bottles. Fortunately the bottles didn't break, but the cans rolled some distance in every direction I stopped, set up the container and retrieved everything. Recapturing the scene in my mind later in the day, it struck me funny. I told my husband about it. He said that picking up the rubbish was undignified and that I shouldn't have done it. What do you think?

Louise Davis Answers:
I think you would have been a hit-skip. All of us are obliged to seem undignified at times. In your case, it was either maintain false pride or ease your conscience. To me, false pride is as phony as veneer. I am glad that you had enough civic and self pride to clear the area of the empty cans and bottles. Your "undignified" maneuvers surely couldn't have called for any derogatory criticism, that "Mrs. Brown was picking up Mrs. Smith's rubbish." I have a hunch that your husband would have done some stooping too had he been the culprit.

SLACKS IN PUBLIC
I am meeting a plane next week to greet my daughter-in-law whom I haven't seen in three years. Would I be properly dressed if I wear slacks?
Louise Davis Answers:
No. You will be appearing in public, so I suggest that you wear a dress or a suit. Slacks are for the house, garden or cook-outs.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 8

It's easy enough to fall into the belief that the more food you stuff into baby, the better off he'll be. But pressure only serves to fix unpleasantness and distaste for a food in baby's mind. Most weanlings know their needs and eat enough to meet those needs. And if you provide nutritionally balanced meals there's nothing to worry about.

One good way to keep baby interested in his food, provide adequate nutrition too, is to vary menus with different kinds of food. It's easy with over 100 Gerber Strained and Junior Foods.

Dieting Menus Need Not be Hard to Take

Reducers often claim dull, repetitious menus as the reason for not being able to stick with a diet. Eating less, they say, would not be so difficult were the foods less humdrum.

That idea is true in one sense: false in another. Dieting menus, short on both quantity and appeal, are indeed hard to take. But they never need be without appeal. The following dinner menu proves the point.

Two lobster tails, brushed with butter, broiled and garnished with lemon wedges; whole baked tomato, basted with garlic salt and basil, asparagus tips, dressed with a sprinkling of grated Parmesan; raspberry sherbet (small dipper) ringed with whole raspberries.

There you have a menu that even a gourmet would relish. Yet the count is a low 500 calories. Being frozen or canned, the foods are easy to prepare, too.

Actually a big secret of successful ful dieting is imaginative fare, coupled with simplified preparation. Foods need not be exotic or expensive, only varied, deliciously-seasoned and served in an eye-filling fashion.

Take a sliced orange, for example, dusted with cinnamon and

Sheinwold Partner Needs Cards To Trump

It's wonderful to lead a suit that your partner can ruff, but you feel very foolish if it turns out that your partner has no trumps. How can you tell?

West opened the eight of diamonds, and East had no trouble recognizing it as a singleton. He won with the ace of diamonds and returned the ten of diamonds for his partner to ruff.

West ruffed and obediently returned a heart. East would have returned the three of diamonds if he wanted a switch to clubs; the ten of diamonds called for a switch to hearts. In giving your partner a ruff, you lead a high card to indicate an entry in a high-ranking side suit; but you fanned out on a pretty plate, it becomes a dessert that gourmet restaurants serve at the price far exceeding the calorie cost.

Herbs, spices, garnishes, and attractive service make powerful allies while you slim. They produce party meals, that you cannot eat, and feel sorry for yourself. And as self-pity destroys will power, it is a main cause of diet failures.

To lose up to ten pounds without a struggle, send for my leaflet, "Painless Reducing." No rigid dieting, no heavy exercising, no discomfort! All advice is sane, safe, easy-to-take and effective. Address your request to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin!

Partner Needs Cards To Trump

led a low card to show an entry in a low side suit.

South won with the ace of hearts and led a trump to force out the ace.

Crossroads

East was at the crossroads. Should he lead another diamond, or should he try to cash the king of hearts?

When the hand was played, East had no problem. West had ruffed a diamond with the three of spades and had played the deuce of spades when South led trumps. This echo in the trump suit showed that West had started with three trumps. East could safely return a diamond to make sure of the setting trick.

If East tried to cash the king of hearts, South would ruff and draw trumps. That would be the end of the defense.

East might work it out that a diamond return was proper even if his partner had not signaled, but the signal made it very easy. The high-low shows an even number of cards in a side suit but exactly three cards in the trump suit. Use the trump echo chiefly when you have a short suit and want your partner to give you a ruffing trick.

Daily Question

Dealer, at your right, opens with one club. You hold: S-A: H-K Q 8 4 3; D-A 10 7 6 3; C-7 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one heart. You have the right strength for a takeout double, but not the right distribution. You would be embarrassed if partner jumped in spades in response to a takeout double.

Our Children Rough Outdoor Play Good for Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

"Look at those dirty children. Wouldn't you think that their mother would see that they were at least clean?" The children, three runabouts, were certainly dirty. Their faces were streaked with the mud they had been mixing for pies and they had wiped their hands on their clothes. But they were healthy and bright-eyed, their skins glowing, vitality in their every movement and about.

Sometimes people fuss too much about the cleanliness of children. They must not soil their clothes but stay clean as they leave their mother's hands in the morning.

That way no child can grow to sturdy, active health because exercise, hard exercise that uses every ounce of power they have, is essential for the development of their bodies and minds. Children and grownups who do nothing stay clean. To what end? Do-nothing never put the first bushel of potatoes on the market or painted the finest work of art. Work that means anything costs effort and effort is likely to play havoc with nice clothes, dainty manicures and clean hands.

Part of Childhood

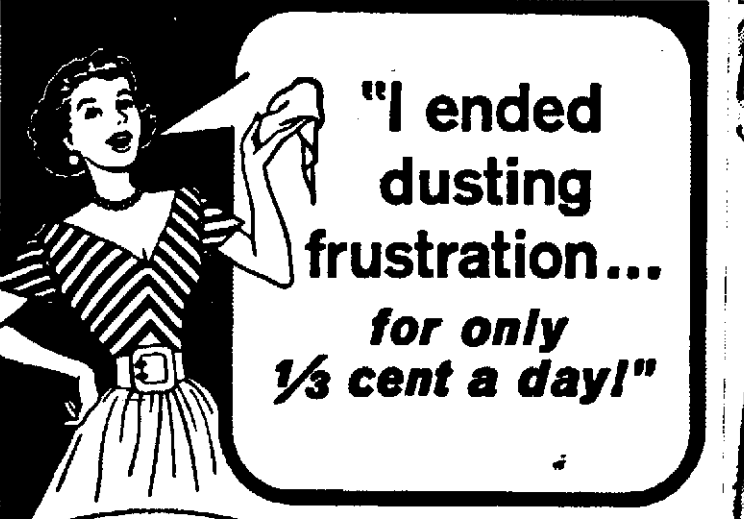

Any mother of runabout children knows that they will head for the nearest puddle and jump in it with both feet, shouting with delight as the muddy water spurts high—on their clothes and faces. She knows about mud pies, about houses for toads and grasshoppers, pans of water for the turtles and wells dug in the lawn for thirsty pets.

And she sighs at the thought of the damage to clothing but understands that this, too, will pass: the day will come when the clothes will be very neat indeed but the happy, laughing, dirty child will have gone for good and aye.

When a child starts out clean in the morning, washes his hands for lunch, and dinner, and is bathed at bedtime, he's not dirty. He's clean enough and doesn't need to be followed around with a washcloth.

Wives Need New Rules For Marriage Happiness

BY PATRICIA DALTON
Chicago Daily News Service

CHICAGO — A Michigan State University professor has some steering directions for wives on how to make or brake their husbands' success and happiness.

Dr. Harold Gray says far too many wives are in the wrong gear — they are trying to mold their husbands to their own images, instead of preserving the differences that made them seem attractive in the first place.

Dr. Gray takes a dim view of housework for husbands, for instance.

In a recent speech at the National Stationery and Office Equipment Association convention here, he said:

"In the old days, a man might have found emotional support at home, but now he is expected to pitch in with the housework or tend the kids after a hard day at the office. It is no wonder the modern husband has ulcers and high blood pressure trying to please everybody at home and at the office."

Success is not necessarily co-existent with happiness, the university guidance specialist told the conventioners' wives.

"Socrates' wife was a shrew, Lincoln had a nagging wife," the professor pointed out.

He also mentioned that the dictionary says success means "the accomplishment of something planned or attempted," as well as "the gaining of wealth, fame, and rank."

Keys to Happiness

But to promote your husband's happiness, Dr. Gray made these suggestions:

— "Insist that your husband take care of himself physically — that means the proper diet and the right amount of exercise, rest and relaxation — you must be his dietitian, nurse and coach."

— "Show appreciation — everyone needs it."

— "Make the most of his good points — be tolerant of the bad."

And when it comes to the inevitable differences of opinion, the key to understanding each other is communication, Dr. Gray said.

He said studies have been made showing that the amount of marital satisfaction appears to be related to the amount of time which a couple spends talking to each other each day.

The study also showed that it was the woman who usually starts the conversation.

Pull Out The Rug

"All this business about being a good listener is fine, but a wife has to recognize that sometimes her husband gets in a rut, and it's up to her to pull the rug out from under him. Don't be afraid. He'll like it if you shake him up once in a while."

The professor offered this remedy for heated arguments: "Just insist that each of you re-state the other's point of view to the other's satisfaction."

He also advocated reversal of roles in an argument. "If you even agree to try it, the argument is over," he said.

"The motivating force of doing these things of course is love," Dr. Gray said. "But learning to love, like the other arts, takes practice and concentration."

"Love is not a resting place, but a moving, growing, working together in a deep relationship."

Match the bedspread and storage furniture to the walls, or use color that blends in, to minimize the furniture size and fade it toward the background. Then paint the entrance door a startling color — it's big enough to count, but locates where it won't pull walls together. Draw the door color into the room by putting it on the floor, again to speak up without involving the walls, and a bright area rug is an especially good choice because it can add pattern and more colors to round out the scheme and tie it together. If a wall area should be broken up, use shelves with items arranged

Army Captain Says GIs FCC Shouldn't Need Shooting Drills Try to Change Human Nature

MENASHA — Soldiers should spend more time firing their weapons, according to Capt. Leslie F. Krueger of Menasha, who has been one of the top Army marksmen for years.

Capt. Krueger is with the advanced marksmanship unit of the Army in Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krueger.

Krueger was the subject of a recent article in the European edition of the serviceman's newspaper, "Stars and Stripes."

"The key to successful marksmanship is practice and competition," he stated. "It's my contention that more time should be spent actually firing the weapon for familiarization so the shooter can gain confidence in handling his weapon."

Krueger enlisted in the army in July, 1941. He earned the Bronze Star for Valor with three oak leaf clusters, and participated in three major campaigns in

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New tonic-tablet laxative acts directly on tense colonic nerves...de-constipates overnight.

The walls of your colon contain nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body.

But, when you're tense, these nerves telegraph too many contracting or squeezing impulses. Then your colon muscles bind dry, shrunken colon contents in a powerful, unyielding grip.

Relief, doctors say, lies in the non-irritating, de-constipating principle of a new tonic-tablet called COLONOID.

Of all laxatives, only COLONOID gives you its special 3-way overnight relief for tension-caused constipation.

(1) COLONOID stimulates your colonic nerve network, to activate and regularize its muscular "movement".

(2) COLONOID's unequalled re-bulking action re-tones tense colon muscles.

(3) COLONOID moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital-proved safe even for expectant mothers. Get COLONOID today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Public Affairs Programs Just Don't Have Appeal

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Here is a lesson for those members of the Federal Communications Commission who would like to repeal the laws of human nature and cause people to listen to and watch television programs they don't like or care about.

The so-called "ratings" that survey the listening habits of viewers of television are made every day. It so happens that a few nights ago former President Eisenhower was on a non-commercial program—the expense of which was borne entirely by the Columbia Broadcasting Co. as a public service.

Lawrence

A survey showed that it was watched by about seven per cent of the people and that around 20 per cent preferred a singing show at that hour and another 20 per cent concentrated on a drama involving crime. The remainder of the night's audience watched a variety of other programs.

Yet the presentation of an interview with former President Eisenhower by Walter Cronkite of the CBS network was one of the most remarkable television programs of all times. Not only did Eisenhower make a simple, native and highly interesting revelation of the cares and duties of a President of the United States, but he furnished an example of candor and objectivity which has had no parallel in recent programs on public affairs.

Rare Individual
Eisenhower is one of those rare individuals in public life who doesn't equivocate or fortify himself with balanced phrases that show a constant awareness of political pitfalls. He expressed his thoughts bluntly and honestly. It was a fascinating example of what can be done in a television interview.

But out of the television audience nightly of about 50,000,000 people, only about 7,500,000 heard and watched the Eisenhower talk.

Many of those who preferred the singing show given at the same hour on another network might have gladly watched the Eisenhower interview if it had been at another hour.

But they liked the songs of the chorus—old tunes and excellent voices. It was a show built up over the weeks in the past, so regular listeners weren't in the mood perhaps to think about public affairs.

Spokesmen of the Federal Communications Commission have been decrying the current types of program of the national networks. The broadcasting companies have responded by trying to put on more "public affairs" programs.

They have made a noble effort. But it's one thing to offer up good books to read and it is something else to get everybody to read them. So with television the tastes of the people vary and most of them evidently prefer entertainment, drama and adventure, and not too many of the serious programs on public affairs.

The "Great Debates" in the last presidential campaign were today largely sponsored by commercial companies who want to increase the audience somewhat, watched by a big audience, but the largest audiences they can get are against such a vance and were in the nature of mobilize by advance publicity or result, based on previous expert contests. Viewers like contests—otherwise to look at their shows once.

including prize fights and quiz so they can offer their products. So it does look as if the FCC shows. But this doesn't mean they for sale to a potentially large will make more progress and the will always forego an evening of number of customers.

Laird Hits Draft of State Men

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R., Marshfield, has protested to Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara against what he called the "unreasonable" number of men called up for army duty from Wisconsin.

Based on statistics he had received from the Pentagon, Laird said that he figured that Wisconsin is supplying 11 per cent of all Army call-ups.

"I do not think that Wisconsin, which contains less than 2 per cent of the population should be required to furnish 11 per cent of the army reserves called into active duty," Laird declared. "I brought these figures to the attention of Secretary McNamara, and told him I thought it only fair that the call-ups be spread out equally among the states, instead of making Wisconsin bear such a high per cent of the burden in comparison to its population."

Oil, floating on water, in the unused tank, was ignited by an acetylene torch by workmen tearing down the tank. Several firemen were overcome by smoke. The tank, which is 100 feet in diameter, was being dismantled and had not been in use since

Police Seek Phone Booth Burglars

Several North Carolina men, whom police believe to be armed, are being sought by Appleton police for questioning about telephone booth burglaries.

Police are investigating pay phone booths in the city to determine how many coin boxes have been pilfered. At least three booths discovered on the living room floor.

Firemen said the fire probably was started by a 10-year-old boy making toast in the broiler of the stove. The child, home from school because of illness, said he had been gone from the house for about two hours when the fire was discovered.

The living room floor was damaged by the flames, and smoke damage was noted throughout the house.

School Site Outside City Questioned

Works Group Wants Board To Explain

Appleton's street and sanitation committee wants to know how the board of education expects to build the new southeast elementary school when the site has not been annexed to the city and no provision has been made for streets, sewer and water.

The committee said it would have a letter written to the board asking for an explanation of why it is moving ahead with actual construction plans before all other arrangements are complete.

Superintendent of Schools Royce Kurtz said today there may be a technicality in defining the school district boundaries which might put the site outside the Appleton district. He said he was going to check the records to determine if it is in the Appleton district.

Preliminary plans for the school were reviewed by the board last week. Board members said they hoped final plans would be ready soon so that contracts could be let next February and construction started in May. Estimated cost is $829,000.

Interceptor Sewer The 10-acre school site is between extensions of Forest Street and Lourdes Drive (formerly Clara Street).

Before the area around the school and in the new Schaefer Park plat can be served with sewer a large interceptor trunk line must be laid down Matthias Street to take sewage effluent to the treatment plant on the Fox River.

The committee approved plans and specifications for the interceptor Monday. It is hoped a contract can be let and construction started by the end of this year.

But streets, sewer and water cannot be installed in the area of the school site, because the land has not been platted. This must be done before annexation proceedings can start.

No Streets Land for streets that will border the school site has not been dedicated, so that actually the streets do not exist, even on paper.

According to city ordinance a building permit can not be issued for any type of construction in any new area until the street that the building will face has been graded and gravelled.

Water, sewer, grading and graveling are scheduled for Forest Street next year, as far east as Matthias Street. Forest would then terminate about a block west of the school site.

Oshkosh Man Pleads Guilty

Reckless Driving Charge Admitted In Municipal Court

OSHKOSH — James M. Welton, 24, 1014 N. Main St., Oshkosh, pleaded guilty of reckless driving when arraigned before Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane this morning, and was sent to the Winnebago County jail without bond to await sentencing at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Welton was arrested at 7:15 p.m. Sunday after an Oshkosh policeman saw Welton drive east on W. Seventh Avenue at a high rate of speed. The patrolman followed in a squad car and stopped Welton at Bowen and Merritt avenues.

Welton was told to follow the policeman to the police station but attempted to get away.

Charge Dismissed

A reckless driving charge against Dennis Grill, 21, 1406 Ontario St., Oshkosh, was dismissed by Judge Cane with the understanding that Grill's National Guard unit would take punitive action against Grill. Grill had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Grill was arrested at 2 a.m. today by Oshkosh police after his car ran a stop sign at Wisconsin Street and New York Avenue. Grill tried to elude police but was caught after he turned into his driveway and jumped from the car and started to run.

Pleads Innocent

Rodney Hanchett, 20, 357 Broad St., Menasha, pleaded innocent to a charge of carrying a rider on a motorcycle not equipped for two persons.

Hanchett and Louis Kubicka, 20, 810 Emily St., Menasha, were injured Oct. 9, when the motorcycle Hanchett was driving hit the rear of a car at E. Parkway Ave. and Main Street in Oshkosh.

Trial was set for 9 a.m. Nov. 17, but Judge Cane said he would postpone proceedings if Hanchett is out of the state at that time. Hanchett also is a member of the 32nd Division.

Juniors Win Float Contest At St. John

LITTLE CHUTE — The Junior class float at St. John High School won first place honors in the homecoming parade over the weekend. The senior class took second and the sophomores, third.

The winning float depicted a baby licking a large lollipop and carried the slogan, "We'll 'lick' em". The senior entry was a large cat toying with a mouse, the latter dressed in colors of Marinette Central High School.

Water Board Requests Land For Expansion

The Appleton Water Commission is asking the city to negotiate for a 10,230 square foot tract of land behind its Walnut Street building for future expansion needs.

The land is owned by the John M. Balliet Agency, Inc. No formal offer has been made by Balliet, and the commission wants authorization for the board of public works to meet with him.

The tract the commission wants is made up of two parcels. There is a 6,930 square foot piece directly behind the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. sub-station on Washington Street. It runs from the power company property line to the Chicago and North Western Railroad.

The other piece is an 18-foot wide strip immediately west of the power company land, running from Washington Street to the railroad tracks. This would serve as a driveway to any new building constructed on the larger parcel. There are 3,300 square feet in the driveway strip.

Commissioners said the present water department garage and supply house is becoming severely overcrowded as the department grows with the city. An addition will be needed in the very near future they said.

Credit Union Birthday to Be Observed by 13,000

More than 13,000 county residents will join the 15 million other credit union members throughout the world in the celebration Thursday.

"This is our day to give thanks for the credit union privilege and to tell others about credit unions," Clarice Stake, president of the Outagamie County Chapter of Credit Unions, said today. "It marks the 112th birthday of the credit union idea."

Thursday is the climax of Credit Union Week, observed annually by credit union members around the world. . . in South America, Europe, Africa, Australia and even the Fiji Islands.

Activities scheduled locally by chapter members will be climaxed by a candlelight dinner-meeting held at Strobes Island Tuesday. Over 200 are expected to hear speaker J. Orin Shippe, assistant director of the Wisconsin State League. Other guests will include Assemblyman Ken Priebe from Appleton and field representative Ed Muehlenberg from Kimberly.

Awards Planned

Several local people will be honored that night with an award certificate for outstanding service in the chapter in recent years.

Highlighting the evening will be a special salute to the many sponsors of the credit union movement, the presidents, managers and representatives of the many units in this area. "Sponsorship of Appreciation Night," John Vanden Heuvel, general chairman of the week long event, will be assisted by the host credit union of the Miller Electric Company.

Wage Study Ordered for Water Utility

A study of the salaries and hourly wage rates for employees of the Appleton Water Department has been ordered by the Water Commission to determine what adjustments might be needed for the coming year.

In view of the new pay plan adopted by the council for city workers, adjustment probably will be necessary in the Water Department, commissioners said.

R. D. DeLand, commission chairman, appointed a three-man committee to make the wage and salary study. Named were Carl Schroeder, chairman of the Distribution System Committee; George Peotter, chairman of the Office Committee; and Peter DeLain, chairman of the Plant Committee.

A wage study was made earlier this year for plant and distribution system workers, but not for office workers.

Commissioners said Monday they thought one master plan should be made for all departments, and that it should take into consideration the city's new pay plan.

Need Faster Depreciation, Dillon Claims

Bankers Told That Other Nations Spend More for Equipment

BY ED KANDLIK
Post-Crescent News Service
SAN FRANCISCO — Douglas Dillon, secretary of the treasury, today called for an updating of the depreciable lives of industrial equipment.
Addressing the annual convention of the American Bankers Association here, the treasury secretary pointed out that all industrial countries of Western Europe except Belgium and the United Kingdom, are now devoting twice as much of their gross national product to purchases of industrial equipment as the United States.
Even these two exceptions are depreciating industrial equipment one and one-half times as fast as the United States, he said.
Dillon called for an updating of Internal Revenue Service calculations of depreciable lives so they would reflect conditions in this age of rapid technological change.

Menasha Firm Official Re-Elected Fibre Box Director
D. C. Shepard Jr., general manager, Menasha Container Division of Menasha Wooden Ware Corp., Menasha, has been re-elected a director of Fibre Box Association.
Shepard graduated from Yale University in 1950 and started to work with Menasha. He has held positions as manager of a specialty department, production manager of the Menasha and Rockford, Ill., plants and was recently appointed to his present post.

industry was recently granted a 40 per cent decrease in depreciation "lives," Dillon said this might not justify equally large reductions in other industries but expressed confidence that "many reductions of a significant nature will be possible."
Dillon endorsed an "improved" tax treatment for mutual savings banks and savings and loan associations. He said that, while stimulating home building may be important, a fair method should be provided that they can begin to carry their equitable share of the national tax burden.
He also came out quite flatly in favor of withholding of income tax on interest and dividends. He said that the treasury had reached the conclusion that withholding was the only practical way to solve the problem.

The secretary called upon both industry and labor to forego unnecessary wage and price increases in the national interest.
He said the outlook for the economy is good with an expectation of a promising period of growth. But this could be endangered by excessive increases in prices or wages.
Stimulate Exports
Dillon expressed hope that the deficit in the international balance of payments for the current year could be held to not much more than $2 billion.
But he warned that the nation faced the probability of a cut in its commercial trade surplus during the coming year. He said we must redouble our efforts to increase exports.
Dillon said President Kennedy plans to present a balanced budget for fiscal 1963. But he said that mid-year readings on the 1962 budget picture indicate a prospective deficit of around $6,740,000.
He said the increase over the July deficit estimate was due to failure of Congress to increase postal rates and a big agricultural crop, which raised outlays for price supports.

Two Accused Of Forgery
Office Worker, Boy Friend Plead Innocent on Charge
An 18-year-old office worker and her 21-year-old boy friend are being held in Outagamie County jail on $15,000 bond each on charges of forgery.
Thomas Kersten, 21, 303 W. Fourth St., Kaukauna, and Joan Thiel, 18, 206 Williams St., Combined Locks, Monday pleaded innocent to forgery when they were arraigned before Municipal Judge Gustave J. Keller.
Worker Charged
Miss Thiel, an office worker at the H. C. Prange Co., is charged with cooperating with Kersten in crediting Kersten's account with an $1,100 overpayment.
A store official said Miss Thiel told him Kersten had paid $2,000 on a $900 bill she had run up. The official said he would check the overpayment and refund the $1,100.
The check showed that there was a $2,000 receipt but the receipt was not recorded on the accounting tape. Miss Thiel then confessed to store officials that she had run off the receipt and cleared the accounting machine so it wouldn't show.
A trial date will be set Monday.

700 Idled Miners Will Resume Work
HURLEY, Wis. (AP) — More than 700 miners will return to work at three idle iron ore mines in this area within the next few days, it was announced Monday.
E. L. Joppa, general manager of the Pickands, Mather & Co's Lake Superior Mining Division, said work will resume at the Cary, Peterson and Geneva mines on a four-day basis, with three shifts at Geneva and two at the others.
Two in Bessemer
The Cary mine is in Hurley and the other two are near Bessemer, Mich.
The three mines were shut down earlier this year because of what was called unprofitable operations. The United Steelworkers Union said on Saturday the mines would be reopened soon as the result of a new work agreement. Joppa said the company decided to reopen the mines after the Michigan Tax Commission agreed to take steps toward equalizing taxes on mining and non-mining properties. He also said local public utilities and the fee owners had agreed to some reductions in costs.

Democrat Disagrees With Nelson
MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Milwaukee Democrat assemblyman, Richard Nowakowski, declared Monday night that Gov. Gailord Nelson's attitude on tax compromise "has given every (Democratic) legislator a release from the party platform."
"If a legislator wants to divert on such things as reapportionment or (civil rights) in housing, all he has to do is point to the governor as a ready-made excuse," Nowakowski said in a speech before the 14th ward Democratic unit. He added he admired Nelson's courage though disagreeing with his stand.
Huber Disagrees
Addressing the Democratic state convention at Eau Claire last weekend, the governor told delegates he would be bound by his conscience, not the party, in current tax compromise talks with Republican legislators. Observers interpreted this to mean that Nelson might to along with a limited sales tax although the party opposed a general sales tax in its 1960 platform and reaffirmed its opposition to any kind of sales tax at the Eau Claire meeting.
The Democratic minority Assembly floorleader, Robert Huber of West Allis said he couldn't go along with Nowakowski.

City Workers in Menasha Seek 40-Hour Work Week

Negotiations for 1962 Labor Agreement to Begin Oct. 23

MENASHA — Negotiations for who services and paints parking the 1962 labor agreement with the municipal employees' union. The city council will begin Oct. 23, the council agreed Monday. The city's members of Local 1035 now work 42½ hours. They worked 45 hours a week until the end of 1960.

The street department and Robert W. Swanson, area representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, will consider the union's five major points for the new contract:

- 1. Insurance to pay wages of workers who become ill or are injured off duty.
- 2. Job classifications, with wage rates. Included would be the man

New Neenah Lift Station Nears Finish

NEENAH — A new pumping station for the sanitary sewers of the city is about 75 per cent complete and other sewer installation work is in progress near the downtown area. Wayne G. Bryan, public works director, said today. The pumping station is being built behind the old Soo Line depot.

A new sanitary sewer is being laid along W. Doty Avenue in the block between S. Commercial and Church Streets. It begins at the intersection of the sewer near the Bergstrom Paper Co. plant and will follow along Doty Avenue to Walnut Street, south on Walnut Street to Spruce Street and also east on Franklin Street to Oak Street where it will end.

Additional Capacity This sewer will provide additional capacity for the area south of Washington Avenue. Parts of it are 24 inches in diameter, sections at 21 inches wide and some parts are 15 inches in diameter.

Additional pumping capacity also is being installed at the S. Park Avenue. Cecil and Harrison Streets and Adams Street pumping stations.

Bryan said that additional sewer capacity also is being added at John Street and Western Avenue. These installations are part of the recommendations of the Jerry Donohue Engineering Co. to relieve the sewer flooding conditions after heavy rainfall.

Lack of Volunteer Help a Threat To Credit Unions

MENASHA—The biggest threat to the credit union movement today is not the activities against it by the American Banking Association nor the attacks on the cooperative idea. John H. Bigger, director of education for Credit Union National Association, told more than 250 credit officers and committeemen here Monday night.

The biggest threat to the credit union movement's survival in the next 10 to 20 years is the threat of evaporating, disappearing and vanishing volunteer leadership, he declared at the annual banquet of the Winnebago County Credit Union Chapter at the Elks Lodge. "If it were not for the volunteer leadership that has come down through the credit unions in North America, there would not be a credit union tonight," Bigger contended.

Some Fear Nuclear Destruction

Many Churchmen View Panic Trend With Alarm

The decision of many women not to have children, increasing numbers of psychiatric patients concerned about total war, and mounting indifference by students were cited today as evidences of nuclearphobia, an exaggerated fear that destruction is just around the corner.

Widespread indulgence in worrying about disaster, unusually high spending, and discussions about whether neighbors should be locked out of atomic shelters have prompted charges of too much civil defense talk by responsible groups.

Idea May Spread Leading psychiatrists, clergymen, obstetricians and educators are now concerned that the "air of futility" among normal adults may spread to their children.

Among the effects of current international tensions they noted were:

1. A rising number of neurophobic cases involving unreasonable anxieties about radiation and survival reported by private psychiatrists. Members of the National Institute of Mental Health in Washington, D.C., are also interested in the "new atmosphere of fatalism" at capital cocktail parties.

2. "Evidence of uncivilized and destructive preoccupation with personal and family self-preservation" was viewed with alarm by the National Council of Churches' Committee on Family Life.

3. Gynecologists and family-planning group officials in large eastern cities report an increasing number of women patients who feel "there's no point" in bringing children into a world plunging toward a nuclear holocaust.

Students' Attitude 4. Professors at some colleges say there is a mounting element of "what - the hell" attitude by students infected with their parents' futility. Symptoms that are growing are: sloughing off schoolwork, refusal to think about future careers or marriage and a recklessness about campus life.

Rev. Edward Genne, chairman and secretary of the committee on family life, respectively, said that the growing panic about atomic attack might do almost as much harm to the nation as disaster itself.

Rev. Staples added that fear generally provokes a moral decline. He urged families to spend their energies urging the government to fight for peace instead of digging holes in their back yards.

"I would not want my children to feel that my hope for the future rests on the kind of shelter we were building," he said.

Speaker Claims Fear Will Maintain Peace

Grant Haas, President of State Chapter Of 'American for the U.N.' Talks in Neenah

NEENAH — "I do not believe that there will be a war because the world will destroy itself if it goes to war. This is the fear extant in the world today and I believe the world will attain a basic idealistic hope for peace through its fear of annihilation," stated Grant Haas at the Fox Valley Chapter meeting of the American Association for the United Nations.

Haas, state president of the organization, led a discussion group at the YWCA Monday evening following a taped message titled "Problems of the U.N." This was part of the local chapter's plans for United Nations Day, Oct. 24, which will be observed in Neenah-Menasha schools and by civic organizations.

Asked about Red China's admission to the U.N., Haas explained, "What is going to happen to West Berlin?" brought this answer: "Communist nations will never agree to free plebiscites—and if we insist, it means war. I look for a UN created free city, run by the four-power occupying countries."

Concluding his statements, Haas said:

"The real question is whether to debate before the assembly the entrance of Red China. Under the eligibility qualification set forth in the original charter, there is the sentimental description 'a peace-loving nation' with infinite latitude. I doubt that Red China can qualify."

City Offered Old Wheeler Garage Site

Facility Has 8,000 Square Feet of Space And 1½-Acre Lot

MENASHA — City aldermen were invited once again to view the old Wheeler Transportation Co. garage on Third Street as a possible city garage.

William J. Hahn, owner, described the garage. Earlier this year, he had invited the council to see the property, but no one appeared.

The garage has 8,000 square feet of space and is on a 1½-acre lot.

Property Check Mayor John Klein asked the aldermen at Monday's committee of the whole to check the property and prepare to discuss the issue by the next meeting.

Roy Whittier, a Blue Cross representative, asked the council to consider taking his medical and hospital insurance. The city three years ago dropped Blue Cross in favor of Wisconsin Physicians' Service because the former's rates were rising. Whittier noted the city employees' rate now is Haas said. "There is a prevalent disposition in the world today among men and women of all nations which calls for turning problems over to their leaders. This is a breeder of dictatorships. With freedom, there is a duty and this is the lesson every American must learn."

School Programs

Dr. Donald Scott, superintendent of the Neenah schools, gave a brief outline of the methods which will be used in observance of United Nations Week, Oct. 23-27. All grade levels will participate. Kindergarten through high school, through the use of stories, film strips, special reports, bulletin boards and special assemblies.

A special assembly at Menasha High School was announced by Supt. M. J. Gegan of the Menasha public schools. At 9 a. m. next Tuesday there will be a student production depicting the life of the late Dag Hammarskjöld.

Through picture, music and words the story will tell of his early life, his work prior to the United Nations experience, his work as secretary general and the effect of his death upon the world. Menasha elementary schools will also be taking part in the United Nations Day program.

How to invest wisely in stocks and bonds

It's getting hard to find anyone these days who hasn't heard about the advantages of owning stocks and bonds. What's not so widely known is how to go about investing wisely. Here are four suggestions.

FIRST: Make use of a broker whose full-time job is helping people choose securities sensibly. You'll find him in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Every Registered Representative there has met the Exchange's requirements for investment knowledge. From the variety of securities available he can help you select the kind he thinks best fits your needs and today's conditions.

SECOND: An important rule of wise investors is to get facts about a company—never invest on tips or rumors. They know that many a telephone is ringing with calls from high-pressure salesmen urging unwary people to buy risky or worthless stock. They know that prices of both stocks and bonds vary almost every day, some companies may fail to make a profit, may not pay dividends or interest. So the wise investor begins with money not needed for living expenses or emergencies.

THIRD: Which is most important to you—income, growth or safety of principal? Some companies pay relatively high dividends. Some may reinvest a large part of their earnings in the business and pay smaller dividends or none at all, but may have better prospects for growth. Bonds, on the other hand, usually offer greater stability of income and safety of principal.

FOURTH: A good way to start is to read our useful guide to common stock investing, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." This valuable booklet gives you the records of some 475 stocks that have paid a cash dividend every year for 25 years or more. It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can acquire stock in famous companies with as little as $40 every three months, or as much as $1,000 a month. City employees will be asked their choices, aldermen agreed. The city has received bids for two lots offered for sale as a result of council action.

One, at Fourth and Manitowish streets, attracted three offers, for $3,000 down to $1,500. Highest bidder was Robert Miller.

For the other, at Fifth and Appleton streets, Cliff Klutz offered $1. He would plan to move his home from the adjoining lot and erect a new home.

The council's finance committee recommended taking Miller's offer but made no suggestion on the other parcel. Several aldermen thought the city should keep it.

The mayor asked the council to provide $300 for plywood to enclose the new Smith Park pavilion against the winter.

A 30-Place, $8,500 Language laboratory has been installed in the former Town Girls room in the basement of Main Hall on the Lawrence College campus, for the use not only of the language department but to enable the college to participate in a quarter-million dollar government contract in language research awarded recently to the Associated Colleges of the Midwest. The ten member colleges will funnel their data to Klaus Mueller, coordinator for the program, whose headquarters are in Beloit.

Lawrence in Language Course Research Project

Man vs. Teaching Machine Debate Studied in Laboratories

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

The classic sound of scholarship — a monotone of young voices reciting their lessons in unison — has continued unchanged though the world has moved from oxcart to jet plane.

When you hear such a sound drifting from Main Hall on the Lawrence College campus, however, chances are strong that the lesson is a foreign language and that it is being murmured into a machine.

College teachers of language — at Lawrence and elsewhere — have never concealed their skepticism of teaching by machine. Their creed is that language is a cultural tool (Swift said "Language is fossil poetry"), rather than a tool of business or war-making.

To take the teacher out of the equation, they argue, is to kill the spark ignited when mind is flinted against mind.

Practical Problem

But yet there is the practical problem of how to teach languages to the flood of students already beginning to inundate the nation's colleges. Must a college professor listen endlessly to beginning pronunciation practice in order to teach effectively on a cultural level? Or more important — how do students learn a language best?

To marshal more facts in the man vs. teaching-machine controversy, Lawrence and its nine sisters in the Associated Colleges of the Midwest have embarked on a project for the U.S. Office of Education — Research Contract No. 8833 in Foreign Languages — or more lengthily: "Experimental Refining and Strengthening of Undergraduate Foreign Language Curricula. With Supervising Research in Teaching Techniques." Supervising the project is Klaus A. Mueller, Coordinator of the Language Instruction Program for the ACM, with offices at Beloit.

Mueller has travelled both sides of the road in the man vs. machine controversy. The cultural approach to language is permanent use in the language department, the college this summer installed a 30-place, $8,500 language laboratory in the basement of Main Hall in the one-time Town Girls Room. It also designated Richard Winslow, instructor in Spanish, as Lawrence's language co-ordinator for the ACM, and released one-third of his teaching time for the project.

"Semi-Flexible" Lab

Lawrence's choice of laboratory equipment is known as "semi-flexible," and this figures in its participation in one of the ACM problems.

In addition to the 30 acoustical booths, where students sit with earphones and a microphone, there is a master console which can play four different tapes or records simultaneously. The "semi-flexible" part of the arrangement comes in the way students hear their own voices. When a word or phrase is announced on the tape, it is followed by a blank spot during which the student is to repeat. Speaking into the mike, the student hears his voice through the earphones. "They seem to hear themselves better through the phones," Winslow explains. "It gives them the sense of detachment which they need to criticize their own pronunciation and speed."

Although the student may have the impression that he is working alone, the monitor can tune in his set and correct him. Consequently, the first day the lab was operating, one student was roused from an afternoon nap by a crisp voice saying, "Are you sleeping?" while another was chided for his humming and whispering. Since then, the students refer to the monitor in the corner as "Big Brother."

Through the language laboratory, Lawrence will take part in Questions 3, 4 and 5 of the study. Professor John McMahon of the German department will contribute data to the lab vs. non-lab question. His beginning German classes will use the same book as Carleton College, but his classes will be supplemented by labs, while Carleton's will not. Achievement under the two systems will be compared at the end of the year. Spanish sections taught by Winslow and Dr. John Alfieri will lead themselves to Question 4—Winslow's labs will be monitored, while Alfieri's will not.

The entire language department—12 sections of beginners in French, German, Spanish, Italian and Russian—will take part in Question 5, for it involves comparing the semi-flexible laboratory systems of Lawrence, Monmouth and Ripon with the completely flexible (and much more expensive) labs of Cornell, Beloit, Knox and Coe. The latter provides individual tape recorders for each listening booth, and the student hears his voice after the tape is made. Some feel that this is inefficient, for to talk and hear separately doubles the time consumed by the exercise. Still another system is used at St. Olaf, where each student is provided with a portable phonograph and records, and is expected to do unmonitored language practice in his own room.

There are not many commercial study tapes on the market, so each ACM language department has been making its own. At Lawrence, the department is resolved

Business in Favor of JFK's Tax Allowance

Plan Would Provide Award for Investors in New Equipment

BY SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy administration and business are getting closer together today on at least one disputed issue: Tax allowances for the wear and tear on machines and plants.

The President has been urging speedier modernization of industry to promote economic growth. Industry has been charging it is held back by obsolete tax rules. The Treasury now indicates it will be more liberal—as many businessmen have been asking—in allowing quicker depreciation writeoffs for tax purposes.

It has taken the first step by cutting the writeoff time for many kinds of textile machinery to as low as 15 years from the previous 25 years. It is studying other industries burdened with plants and machinery made obsolete in recent years by the big speedup in technology.

Tax Allowance

In return for this promised shortening of depreciation time schedules where found justified, business leaders indicate they'll look with more favor on a Kennedy administration pet scheme: A tax allowance as a reward for the purchase of new equipment.

At first the President proposed a sliding scale giving the biggest tax allowance to firms making unusually heavy investments. This was changed by the House Ways and Means Committee to a flat reduction of 8 per cent of the equipment cost. The modified bill, which treasury officials indicate the administration will accept, is docketed for first order of committee business in the new session in January.

But businessmen aren't primarily interested in this untied device. What they have sought is an updating of the depreciation rules, last revised in 1942. Today they are cheered by the concession to the textile industry and the assurance of Henry F. Fowler, undersecretary of the treasury, that other industries are being studied.

More Cash On Hand

This is how the shorter depreciation time works: If a company must write off a million-dollar equipment purchase over 25 years, it can take a depreciation allowance for tax purposes of $40,000 a year. But if it can write off the cost in 15 years, it can deduct about $67,000 a year.

With the corporate income tax rate at 52 per cent, this difference of $27,000 means that the company has about $13,500 more cash available each year.

The U.S. Treasury would get less taxes during the faster write-off period. But business spokesmen argue that shorter or longer schedules work out in the long run to the same total payments, assuming the machinery is in use throughout the allowed depreciation period.

Ages Rapidly

Businessmen also contend that today machinery becomes obsolete much faster than in calmer eras when the tax rules were made. A number of industries have told Congress they are stuck with obsolete machinery valued for tax purposes at the original price but which can't be replaced at even twice that cost.

Other U.S. industrialists note that most other nations permit faster writeoffs and that many grant other tax incentives in the year of a new purchase. American companies complain that their old plants can't compete with the modern ones recently built in western Europe and Japan.

to use only native voices: tapes used this year include those made by Joerg Hahn and Yves Duclos, last season's foreign students from Germany and France respectively. Spanish tapes by Chilean-born Mrs. John Alfieri, and Russian tapes by Deane Leonard.

So it is that when the classic sound of scholarship — that of unison recitation—sounds from Main Hall this year, it will sound like the Tower of Babel.

"I deem it the duty of every man to devote a certain portion of his income for charitable purposes...and that he sees it so applied as to do the most good."

Air Force ROTC Honors 2 Senior Lawrence Cadets

Two Lawrence College senior men were named distinguished cadets in the AFROTC training program in a ceremony held on the lawn of Memorial Chapel Robert Andersen, Evanston, Ill., and Meredith Watts, Jr., Mundelein, Ill., were the cadets cited for "outstanding qualities of leadership, high moral character, aptitude for military service, high academic standing and leadership ability in campus activities."

If the distinguished rank is maintained throughout the senior year, cadets will have an opportunity to compete for a regular Air Force commission instead of a reserve commission. They will also be named distinguished military graduates at commencement.

Col. Carroll M. Newstrom made the awards with the assistance of Dean Kenneth Venderbush and two honorary coed sponsors, Marilyn Nelson and Ann Peterson, both of Minneapolis.

'Gazebo' First Show For Oshkosh Players

Popular Mystery-Comedy by Coppel Starts Wednesday for 3-Night Run

Starting out where it left off last spring, Oshkosh Community Players will turn to comedy for its 1961-62 season opener. "The Gazebo," a mystery comedy by Alec Coppel, will be given Wednesday through Friday at the Grand Theater. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

Arville Nonweiler, veteran director of more than 10 Oshkosh Players' productions, is in charge. Her most recent productions have been "12 Angry Men," "Witness for the Prosecution" and "Torchbearers."

Heading the cast are Richard Reitz as mystery writer Elliott Nash, Dorothy Delk as his wife, and Joseph Voss as district attorney Harlow Edison.

Reitz formerly appeared with the Players in "12 Angry Men" and "Austin Mame," while Voss is a veteran performer for both the Oshkosh Players and Attic Theatre of Appleton.

Mrs. Delk, who had a leading role in the Players' hit of last season, "The Matchmaker," has performed with community theater groups in Chattanooga, Knoxville and Dayton before coming to Oshkosh last year.

Other members include Connie Koch, Betty MacNichol, Nile Paulig, John Rasmussen, Dave Smith, Fred Steinbrecher, Dave Meyer, Larry Habermann and Dennis Sitter.

With Walter Slezak in the lead role, "The Gazebo" was presented on the New York stage in 1955. It later was made into a movie, starring Glenn Ford.

The story revolves around Elliott Nash, who loves his wife so much he'd do anything to please her — even commit murder. His background as a mystery writer helps him gain valuable information toward a "perfect crime" from his friend, the district attorney. Then the complications arise to make the mystery a comedy.

Rudy Vallee, Who gained fame as a crooner more than a generation ago, does some knitting in his role as co-star of a play that opened last weekend on Broadway. Vallee portrays a tycoon in the musical spoof of big business, titled "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

U. S. Savoyards Plan To Widen Repertory

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Savoyard performers are expanding their repertory to include Lehar, Friml and Coward as well as Gilbert and Sullivan. A 24-week season at their Playhouse has been set for the company, under the direction of Dorothy Raedler.

Along with revivals of the standards which they have been enacting for years, the company will do two-week productions of "The Student Prince," "Bitter Sweet" and "The Merry Widow."

Big Business Satire Heads For Long Run

BY WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Hilarity is high and sharp in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Starring Rudy Vallee, the long-

Morse, an impudent young comic, the musical arrived at Broadway's 46th Street Theater. Composed by Frank Loesser, directed and coauthored by Abe Murofsky, the musical is a satire on the production glints with professional polish. Although not unusual in all parts, it Horatio Alger bluish. should be regaling customers for a long time. Vallee and Morse in pince-nez, comes back to the odes. The composer does, however, are knockouts.

The plot is a sardonic safari through the skyscraper jungle of business as a wicket manufacturer-career ambition, replete with eager heavies, office rats and boss tunes of yore with "Grand Old of Burrows—shrewd experts both—Mickey Rooney glee, a bumptious Gold." The first nighters ate the top in ways that would make Vallee, a bit pulpy and paunchy Loesser, with no memorable melody. The over-all score, on initial hearing at any rate, seems lower. The composer does, however, spotlight after long absence to ever, use his multiple skills for each a number of effects, rare and complex for the Broadway stage.

Clark Doesn't Regard Premontre Game as Hawks' Only Big One

6 Xavier Gridders Have Been Regulars For 3 Seasons

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Coach Gene "Torchy" Clark, of the unbeaten Xavier High School football team, doesn't consider Saturday's meeting with powerful Premontre of Green Bay as the Hawks' "big one."

"Every game this year has been a big one for us and the Premontre game as well as the two following it also will be," Clark explained Monday.

The reasoning behind his statement, Clark said, stems from the fact that this is the Hawks' first season as a 4-year school.

"The past two years we have been criticized, not only by outsiders but by people in Appleton. They claimed we were not playing 'anybody' and that the schedules were loaded with weak opponents. This is our first season on a full 4-year basis, and the team is out to prove that it can stay with the best," Clark emphasized.

Clear Title Shot

When Premontre and Xavier meet at East High Stadium at 2 p.m. Saturday, a clear shot at the Fox Valley Catholic Conference title will be at stake. Both teams are unbeaten in four league starts. Xavier has also posted a pair of non-conference wins for a 6-0 record.

Premontre dropped its season opener to Eau Claire Regis and in another non-loop tilt the Cadets defeated Green Bay West and in another non-loop tilt the Cadets defeated Green Bay West and in a 3-way exhibition at Green Bay.

"When I say this game is not 'the big one' for us, that's what I mean," Clark said. "We have been treating each game individually, pointing for a victory. Naturally, I'm hoping the team will be keyed a little higher Saturday because we know it will be a tough game."

In sizing up Premontre, Clark said he has seen the Cadets play three times and they have impressed him with their size, speed and dph.

New Faces

The Xavier squad is unique in that only 11 players who were on the squad for the first team (1959) are missing from the 1961 squad. New faces have joined the squad last season and again this year but the solid nucleus from the first squad is there.

Six seniors play key roles in Clark's gridiron machine and all are in their third season with the Hawks. This group includes ends Dick Rankin and Mike Flanagan, tackles Vic Calmes and Bill Helen, guard Jim Rankin and half-back Pete Werner.

A number of Neenah and Menasha boys have helped the Xavier cause a great deal. Among the regulars who hail from the Twin Cities are center Tom Schuepert, of Menasha, and backs Dick Wiesner, Tom Peeters and "Kip" Whittinger, all of Neenah.

Several of the Hawk players have been associated with Clark ever since they started competing in athletics. When Clark coached at St. Mary Grade School here, he handled a number of the players in both football and basketball.

Some of the players who are in their fourth, fifth or sixth year with Clark include Kelly Kornely, Werner, Bob Rammer, Joe Nussbaum and Dick Rankin. Several others saw part-time action in grade school with Clark-coached teams.

Revenge Desire Spurs UW '11 This Week

Rams' Hirsch Lauds Miller's Quick Hands

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin quarterback Ron Miller says the Badger football team will be looking for revenge in Saturday's game with Iowa at Iowa City.

"We've wanted to get back at them since they beat us in the last minute last year," Miller said Monday. "We felt we were good enough to win."

The 28-21 defeat provided Miller with his last moments of glory in 1960. He was injured after triggering a two-touchdown pass to Sammy Harris in the end zone with 52 seconds left.

It was the first loss of 1960 for the Badgers, and with Miller injured, they won only one of their last five games.

Best of Season

Miller played his best football of the season last Saturday as the Badgers dominated Oregon State for 30 minutes and then hung on to take a 23-20 victory. Miller completed 14 of 24 passes in the first half as Wisconsin scored all of its points before the intermission.

Miller said the first half demonstration proved that the Badgers can score. "And from now on we'll

Redmen Have 3 Good QBs

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fresh from a 28-0 football victory over Monmouth, the Lawrence College Vikings turn to concentrate on their arch rival, Ripon.

The Vikes will journey to Ripon to battle Coach John Storzer's Redmen at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Vike Coach Bernie Heseltun termed the Monmouth game, "One of our best efforts in quite a while." He said the team is continuing to improve.

Proud of Defense

The Vikes viewed the movies of last Saturday's contest Monday evening, and, as Heseltun says, "When you see the films, you

QB Club Will Show Films of Vikings' Win, AHS' Defeat

Lawrence College's 25-point quarter against the Monmouth football team in last Saturday's game will be among the film features at tonight's meeting of the Appleton Quarterback Club. The session starts at 7:30 p.m. in the Lawrence Memorial Union.

In addition to the movies of the Vikes' 28-0 victory, the club will show films of Appleton High's 24-13 loss to Fond du Lac.

always find out that you're not as good as you thought you were."

Despite the usual amount of mistakes detected in the films, Bernie said he was especially proud of the Vike defense.

The second quarter against Monmouth was the one in which Lawrence got all 28 points. Bernie said the output was our best in "a long long time." He recalled that back in the early '50s, the Vikes scored 27 in one period.

Coach Heseltun reports no serious injuries as a result of the Monmouth battle.

Heseltun said that depth will be the key to the Ripon game. Ripon platoons eight men while Lawrence platoons only four. Moreover, says Bernie, we don't platoon most of our backs and that is where a team needs it because the backs do the running.

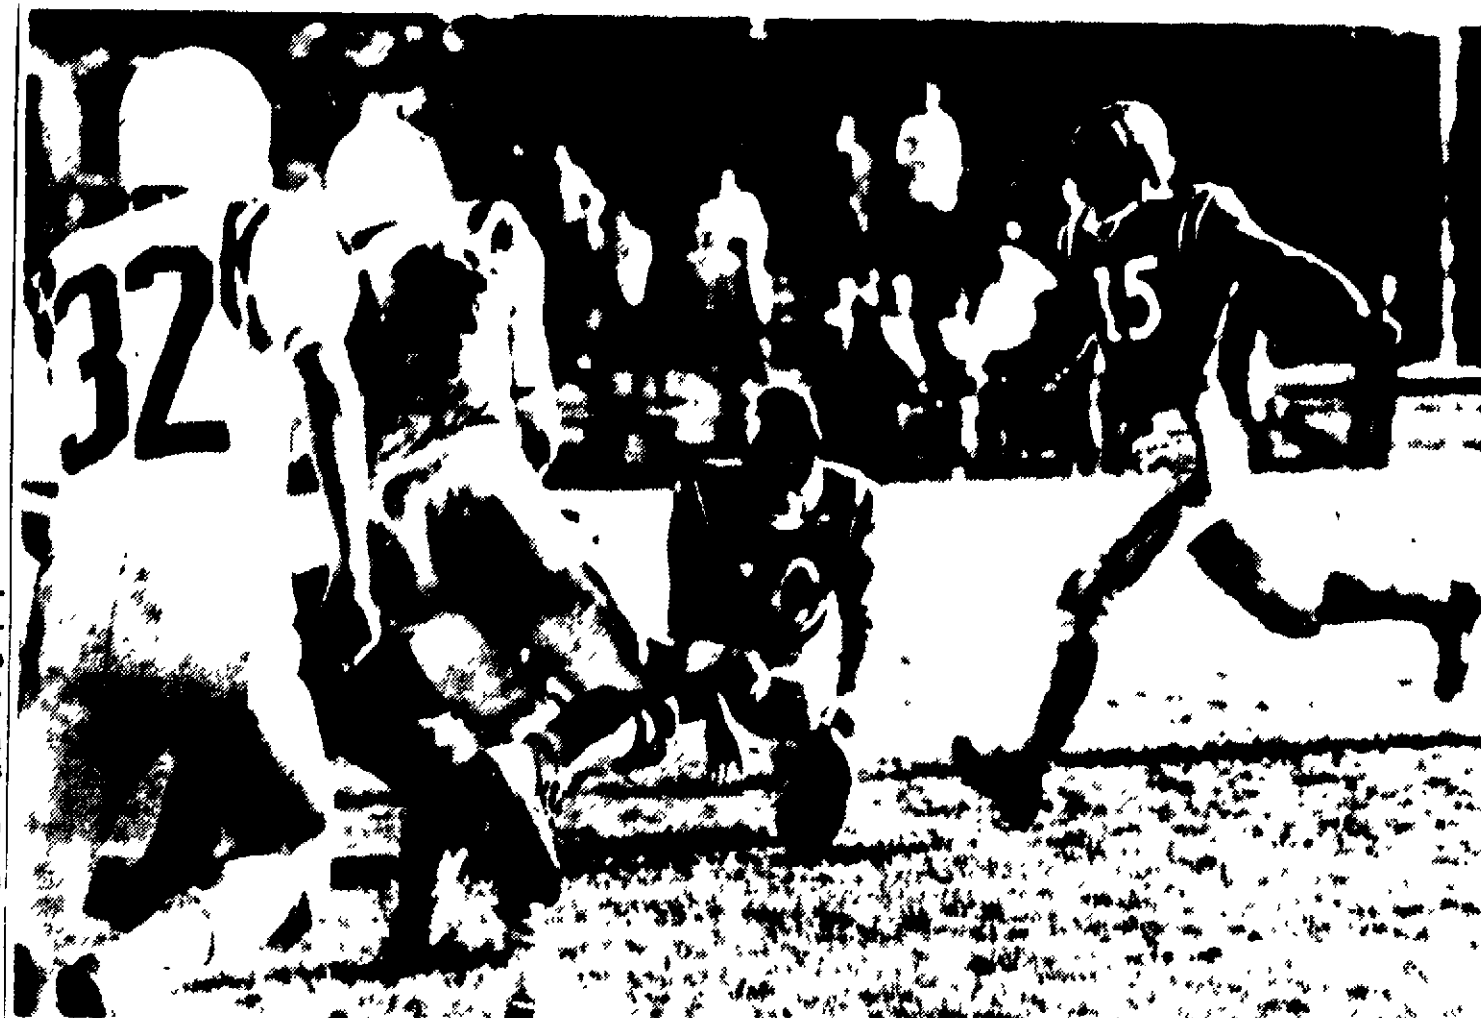

On paper, Ripon should be two touchdowns better, reports the Lawrence mentor. "They played a tougher schedule than we did this far," according to Bernie.

The veteran coach seemed concerned at the prospect of facing three "terrific" quarterbacks. Marv Carlson and Jim Cowley are both lettermen at the position but a sophomore Jack Ankersen, of Neenah, seems to have beaten the pair out. Ankersen played three quarters of the Ripon affair with St. Olaf last week.

Carlson, also of Neenah, was the apparent first-string signal caller this year but Cowley, who was a regular in 1959 returned after fall practice began and the two shared the job.

Ankersen played only one year of high school ball at Neenah under Coach Marlon Batterman. Ankersen can throw the long pass in addition to the short one reports Batterman.

"He has good size," Batterman said. Ankersen reported at 195 pounds this fall but goes close to 200 now. "He's a fine athlete," Batterman added.

The Field-Goal Kicking of Gary Just is one of the weapons Lawrence College may bring into play at Ripon Saturday in the annual intrastate small-college football headliner between the Vikes and the Redmen. Just (15), who has kicked six field goals, is shown here in action. Bob Landis (10) holds the ball.

Hornung, Nitschke Are Called by Army

Vince Hopes Players Can Finish Season

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Halfback Paul Hornung and linebacker Ray Nitschke of the Green Bay Packers have been ordered to active military duty, the 14th Army Corp headquarters announced today.

Maj. Edwin J. Caffrey, public information officer, said Hornung is to report to the 896th Engineer Co. at Ft. Riley, Kan., Oct. 30.

Nitschke is to report to the 32nd Division at Ft. Lewis, Wash., Nov. 2.

Calling up of Hornung will be a costly blow to the Packers. He is the leading scorer on the co-leaders of the Western division of the National Football League.

Earlier today, Green Bay Packers Coach Vince Lombardi said "four or five players" on his club are subject to call for active military duty.

He said the club was trying to work out arrangements so that the players—whom he did not name—could finish out the complete 1961 NFL season.

Hornung and Nitschke could not be reached.

Hornung's mother said in Louisville, Ky., she knew nothing about his being called. She said that as far as she knows, he does not belong to any military organization.

Spartans Take Grid Poll Lead

Edges Mississippi By Two Points; Texas Ranks Third

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State nudged Mississippi out as the No. 1 college football team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The margin was by a slim two points. Ol' Miss, in fact, collected more first place votes than the Spartans. Mississippi had 21 first places to 16 for Michigan State, which went to the top by virtue of its impressive 28-0 victory over Michigan last Saturday in the national television game of the week.

Michigan State finished with 431 points to 429 for Mississippi. The nationwide panel of 48 sports writers and sportscasters had Texas third, Iowa fourth, Alabama fifth, Notre Dame sixth, Ohio State seventh, Georgia Tech eighth, Colorado ninth and Arkansas and Louisiana State tied for tenth.

Mississippi shows a 4-0 record, following its easy 47-7 triumph over Houston last week. Michigan State has won all three of its games.

Present day stars included Na-hawes and right-handed pitcher Horne Kopitz of Oshkosh, who posted a 23-3 record for Birmingham in the Southern Association. Kopitz was the minor league player of the year before being called up by the parent Detroit Tigers where he won two straight vaudeville pitching staff next season. It has made a better fielder and ballplayer out of me by just watching him play on my left."

Tebbetts said he didn't consider the chance to make a mistake lack of a top run centerfielder they won't have opportunity "You can't blame a ballplayer PKchers learn by mistakes for being something you're trying to make him be." Tebbetts said wrong with the Braves has been in obvious reference to regular lack of competition. Now we have rightfielder Hank Aaron. "When the kids to give that competition you talk about your own players in pitching, might not we still you have to talk about what they

AHS Faces Possibility Of First Winless FRVC Season Under Dillon

Seeks to End '61 Drought Saturday in Homecoming Game

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

The 1961 Appleton High School football team will train its sights on an insurance victory this weekend — insurance against the possibility of becoming the first Terror unit without a conference win in Ade Dillon's 19 years as head coach.

After defeating non-league Menasha, 31-6, in its opener, AHS has lost four successive Fox River Valley Conference games. The Terror's game against Sheboygan North at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Whiting Field will be their final home appearance of the season.

Before the homecoming crowd gets its chance to spur the Terror into a big effort Saturday, Dillon is taking advantage of this week's practice sessions to instill fire and confidence into the squad.

North has the poorest overall record (1-4) of the three teams left on the AHS schedule. The Raiders' lone victory came in a conference test against Fond du Lac. Last weekend, Fondy became surprisingly productive to score a 34-13 win over AHS.

If the Terror fail to spill North, their last chances for 1961 victory will come against Green Bay East (2-2) and Manitowish (3-2), both of whom will be decidedly-favored hosts.

The last six seasons prior to this one comprised one of the outstanding eras in AHS grid history. The Terror posted a 28-11-1 FRVC record, took two championships and never left the first division.

The last time AHS finished in the second division was in '54 when Dillon's charges were fifth on a 3-4 record. The only cellar finish under Dillon's direction came in 1953, on a 1-6 mark. In films yesterday and discovered that it was all true in its opener, then lost six straight.

Score 2 Wins

The '46 Terror also had trouble breaking into the FRVC win column. After losing five in a row, they won their last two starts.

AHS' season-starting win by a 4-touchdown margin over Menasha has proven to be deceiving. Since then, against more experienced and more talented conference foes AHS has lost four times by margins of either three or four TDs.

The job of replacing all of last year's regulars and all but two lettermen (Cary Anderson and John Kading) has proven to be a momentous one. Dillon recognized his problem from the start when he said this would be "not just a rebuilding job but more like entirely new construction."

With sophomores and juniors seeing more action with each game, the Terror have been taking their lumps while acquiring experience for the future. This Saturday, they'd like to hand out a few lumps for the edification of homecomers and the record of their coach.

New Team Poses Problem For Packers

Minnesota Rated Better Than 1960 Cowboys

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The 1961 National Football League season is composed of 14 problems.

There's a different kind of problem each week. Last week, the problem was facing a new team — The Cleveland Browns. It was new because Green Bay hadn't played the Browns in six years — League or non-league.

That problem was eliminated in Cleveland Sunday — as you might have heard. If you don't believe it, we have it on good authority that Vince Lombardi and his coaching aides, Phil Bengtson, Norb Hecker, Bill Austin and Red Cochran, saw the film yesterday and discovered that it was all true in its opener, then lost six straight.

If you think the Browns were new, how about next Sunday's opponent — the Minnesota Vikings? The Packers never played them, so, the problem is completely new.

A Comparable Situation

It's a successful problem, so to speak, since the Bays play the Vikings the following Sunday in Milwaukee.

There is one comparable situation. The Packers faced the then-new Dallas Cowboys after a tough game last year and whipped the Cowboys, 41-7. However, the Vikings, profiting by the Cowboys' team-preparation mistakes, are considerably stronger than Dallas was in its first year. And the Packers were rebounding from a 38-34 loss to Baltimore last year.

Lombardi is the first to admit that "it's humanly impossible to stay up week after week in this league."

As he pointed out Sunday, "You'll have a bad game here. Turn to Page 10, Col. 5

Spahn, Maris Lone Repeaters As All-Stars

World Champions Place 4 on 1961 Dream Team

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1961 Associated Press major league All-Star team listed outfielder Roger Maris of the New York Yankees and left-handed pitcher Warren Spahn as the lone repeaters from last season's squad.

The world champion Yanks landed four players on the team named today in the annual poll of members of the Baseball Writers Association. They were outfielder Mickey Mantle, catcher Elston Howard and shortstop Tony Kubek, besides Maris.

Others selected on the squad included first baseman Norm Cash of the Tigers, second baseman Frank Bolling of the Braves, third baseman Ken Boyer of the Cards, outfielder Frank Robinson of the Reds and right-handed pitcher Joey Jay of the Reds.

Howard, a near unanimous choice for catcher, polled 156 of the 171 votes cast. Johnny Roseboro of the Dodgers was runnerup with 4 Mantle also was named on 156 ballots to share top vote-getting honors with Howard.

The keenest competition was the battle for shortstop between Kubek and Maury Wills of the Dodgers. Kubek won by 2 votes, 59 to 57. Spahn and Whitey Ford of the Yanks also waged a close race for the outstanding southpaw with Spahn a 20-game winner for the 12th time, prevailing 83 to 78.

Maris, the major league home run king with 61 and the American League leader in both runs and runs batted in, ranked behind teammates Howard and Mantle in the vote-getting. Maris was named on 136 ballots.

Braves' third baseman Eddie Mathews was placed on the second team.

Roberts Happy To Join Yanks

Pitcher Goes to AL for Slightly Over $20,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robin Roberts was asked how he felt toward the New York Yankees, the only team in major league baseball willing to take a chance on the right-hander's great career isn't a thing of the past.

Robin Roberts

"I would like to think that they're a smart organization," said Roberts, 35, beaming from ear to ear at the thought of pitching for Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle & Co.

It was a typical Roberts' answer, showing the kind of pride, and competitive spirit Gen. Mgr. Roy Hamey said had prompted the Yankees to buy the pitcher from the Philadelphia Phillies for a price believed to be slightly over the $20,000 waiver figure.

The "Only Place"

There was no doubt how Roberts felt about the deal. It was all he could do to keep from laughing at the thought of being a Yankee. "Playing with the Yankees is the only place to be," said the winner of 234 games—the last 199—in 14 years with the Phillies. "Anybody knows that in baseball the deal is to win or lose. I've watched the Yankees win, and I want to be a part of it."

Taylor Credits Bays' Blocking For His Cleveland Showing

Jim Claims Conversation in Massive Pileups

GREEN BAY (AP)—Green Bay Packer fullback Jim Taylor, the National Football League's leading ground gainer, says he gets conversation when twisted under a mound of opposition tacklers.

be much more consistent," he said.

Asked what happened in the second half Miller replied:

"We had all the breaks in the first half they had them all in the second half." He continued:

"Sure, I felt good in the first half but there's not much to say after that. We were definitely still trying to play a wide open game, but maybe I was at fault a bit. I got out of the pocket a few times."

"A lot of people expect more than they've seen out of us. What they don't realize is the competition we've had. And we've won three games. I still think we should have defeated Michigan State. We had four chances to score and didn't take advantage of them. The plays were there, but little mistakes hurt us."

Miller doesn't think his performance this year compares badly with last season. In the first four games of 1960 he completed 48 of 87 passes for 713 yards and five touchdowns. Six of his tosses were intercepted. In four games this year, he has completed 5 of 15 throws for 563 yards and two touchdowns. Six of his aeriels were grabbed by the opposition.

The dropoff in yardage gained is a direct result of his reputation which prompts opponents to throw up a solid defense against the long pass.

Miller was complimented by former Wisconsin star Elroy Hirsch, general manager of the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League who drafted the Wisconsin signal caller on the 23rd round last year. Hirsch, who was in the stands Saturday, said, "Man, has Ron got quick hands. He needs a lot of work but we want him. He doesn't look fast, yet gets out of trouble and gets the pass away when you think he doesn't have a chance."

As the Badgers began preparations Monday for the Iowa game, the emphasis was on the passing game. The session followed a briefing on the Hawkeye offense.

The Badger reserve were sent into a scrimmage with the freshmen, who reversed the usual order of things and came up with a 14-8 victory.

Tackle Brian Moore was reported on the casualty list and as of now is a doubtful player for the Iowa game. He has a sprained right ankle. Coach Milt Bruhn also reported that end Ron Carlson, guards Don Schade and Don Van dervelde and safety Bill Hess have injuries that will limit practice participation today.

Cleveland 49-17 in a game that against the Browns to the Packer was supposed to be a preview of the NFL title game. Taylor scored four touchdowns and gained 158 yards on 21 carries for more yardage than was gained by the Browns on the ground.

The performance gave Taylor 518 yards in 81 carries for an average of 6.4 yards each time he carried the ball.

Taylor, who was the Packers second draft choice in 1958, is a prime target for the league's defensive giants. And Taylor said they are not only big, but talkative.

"They are always talking to me," he said Monday. "Oh, they'll say, Well, Jimmy, you didn't do very good this time."

"Sometimes I talk back to them but the less you talk the better it is."

Taylor credited his showing

The Perch and Sunfish are deadlocked for the team lead with 8-1 records.

Phil Behl had the only honor count—a 592 set—in the Nut Couples League.

Keith Gehring's 226 and 590 took honors in the Hahn's National League Schroeder's U-Haul leads the standings with a 7-2 mark.

UW Harriers Seek Fourth Straight Win

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin's unbeaten cross country team seeks its fourth straight dual victory Saturday when it meets Iowa.

Coach Milt Bruhn also reported that end Ron Carlson, guards Don Schade and Don Van dervelde and safety Bill Hess have injuries that will limit practice participation today.

"Why the way they were cleaning 'em out, you could penetrate and find daylight right away. They were rooting them out, giving me two or three ways to go."

Sunday's game also was billed as a head-on clash between Taylor and Cleveland's Jimmy Brown, who led the league in rushing for the last four years.

Taylor came out with the edge when fullback Brown gained only 72 yards and failed to score.

Of the showdown, Taylor said, "It was satisfying to have a game like this on the same field with Brown. We all knew that this game would tell how good we really were."

"We're a solid club," Taylor said, "and the way everybody blocks. I don't know who's going to stop us."

The victory was the fourth for the Packers in five starts and left them tied with the San Francisco 49ers in the Western Conference.

Taylor was one of four Packers on the injury list after the Brown clash. He had a sore back but said it was "nothing serious" while admitting that he was "pretty sore."

"I got in a few good licks," Taylor said. "You've got to let them know what the score is."

Others banged up were halfback Paul Hornung, linebacker Bill Forester and center Jim Ringo.

Ringo was resting in a hospital with an outbreak of boils. He said the disturbance would not keep him from playing next Sunday against the Minnesota Vikings.

Hornung had a pulled leg muscle and Forester was nursing a sore neck.

All are expected to play Sunday.

Kaukauna JV Team Beats Menasha, 7-0

MENASHA — Kaukauna's junior varsity football team scored on a long pass play in the second period to defeat Menasha, 7-0, here Monday afternoon. The loss was the Jays' first after three wins.

Quarterback Buddy O'Brien and left halfback Jim Whittaker combined on the 67-yard play for the touchdown, and John Skibba place kicked the extra point.

Kaukauna posed its only other threat in the fourth quarter but it fumbled into the end zone and Menasha recovered for a touchdown. The Jays didn't seriously threaten.

Appoint Three to Serve on State Athletic Group

MADISON (AP) — Makeup of the Wisconsin Athletic Commission, changed by the 1961 Legislature to a membership of three instead of five, was established by Gov. Gaylord Nelson today.

The governor named Joe E. Sangor of West Allis; Frank M. Falduto of Kenosha and Alfred Jaeger of Fond du Lac to five year terms. He also appointed Falduto chairman.

The three were members of the previous commission. Falduto is on the staff of a Kenosha weekly labor publication; Jaeger is a sign company founder and former boxer; Sangor has been a boxer, promoter and matchmaker.

Roy McMillan, Jimmy Dykes, and Birdie Tebbetts (left to right) were reunited at the Old Time Ballplayers dinner in Milwaukee Monday night. Dykes, recently hired as a coach of the Braves, was a coach with Cincinnati when McMillan played shortstop and Tebbetts managed the club a few years back. Third baseman Eddie Mathews is at the far right.

20 Straight Conference Wins

Premontre's Fritsch Says Cadets Are Not Too Big for Catholic League

GREEN BAY — It's been a bed of roses for Premontre in the past and present Fox Valley Catholic Conference football season.

But Coach and Athletic Director Ted Fritsch believes his Cadets may feel thorns before the year is over and in years to come.

"We're in a good conference and it may be great in the future. We're not too big for the conference," Fritsch said in response to questions about Premontre's early season romps in a conference it has returned to for the first time since 1949.

Premontre left the FVCC in 1949, after winning five straight championships and winning 16 straight games. The Cadets who have won four in succession this year for a record of 20 straight, play host to Xavier in a first place battle Saturday.

Three Reasons

Fritsch lists three reasons for the big scores:

- "We've got a good team. We've got more depth than I've seen in my 10 years here."

- "Our first opponents were not expected to be real good this year."

- "Some of those teams were beaten before playing us. Confidence and enthusiasm are very important and it was lacking by some of the opposition."

Fritsch stressed that FVCC teams have given Premontre good games in recent non-conference games. Premontre beat Menasha St. Mary, 13-6, and Little Chute St. John, 15-0, last year. Premontre beat Little Chute St. John 12-7 in 1959 and was tied 0-0 in 1958.

Biggest School

Premontre, with its more than 900 boys, is by far the biggest school in the conference. Appleton Xavier and Oshkosh Lourdes also joined the conference this year and should be powers. Xavier's co-ed enrollment went from 661 last year to more than 900, and Lourdes went from 464 in 1960 to more than 600.

Fond du Lac Springs has more than 700 students. St. Mary 425, Marinette Central Catholic about 350, St. John 345 (from 293 last year).

Patterson Bout Finally Set for Toronto Dec. 4

TORONTO (AP)—After a one-month postponement and switching the site from one country to another, the world heavyweight championship bout between titleholder Floyd Patterson and challenger Tom McNeely was all set today.

Patterson and the undefeated McNeely signed contracts Monday to meet here on Dec. 4 in the Maple Leaf Gardens. If McNeely upsets the champion, a return bout must be held within 120 days, according to the contracts.

Originally the two were scheduled to fight in Boston on Nov. 3. But Patterson insisted on an out-of-state referee and the bout was called off.

and there and outs may be coming up next Sunday. Every game is equally important."

A New Light

The victory over the Browns put a new light on the Packers. "This was revenge on the Eastern Division for losing the playoff last year to the Eagles. As a result, the Packers now are shaping up as a possible best-team in the league. That can only be proven over the long haul and there are nine games left. But the Bays' new reputation means that every opponent from now on will be 'up' for them."

And speaking about the Eagles and revenge, the Packers now against tougher foes, too. Premontre did very well against West (ranked No. 1 in the state) and the defeat of Green Bay in Philadelphia. That would be Norm Van East in the second annual three-way scrimmage last month.

He acknowledged he never has seen Moyer fight.

MADISON (AP)—The Conservation Department Monday ordered the 1961 goose hunt in the Horicon Marsh area closed at 2 p.m. today.

Half of the bag was recorded outside of Horicon's 2 p.m. shooting zone, but the harvest was included in the total. The closing will end the Horicon Marsh season after 11 days. The 1960 season was 10 days.

Mendy Zusman Has 636 Series To Pace Circuit

Henry Staedt slammed a 348 game, and Mendy Zusman hit a 636 set to pace bowlers in the Builder's League Monday evening. Zusman had a 948 single-ton and Staedt finished with a 802 on the Hahn's alleys.

Bob Abrahamson's 581 paced the Craftsman loop individual scores and Appleton Awning paces the teams with a 134-4 1/4 record.

Dykes Terms Jim Piersall 'Great' Player

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jimmy Dykes, deposed manager of the Cleveland Indians, has called controversial outfielder Jimmy Piersall "very exclusive, very unpredictable, but a great ball player."

Dykes, named a Milwaukee coach three days ago, said that Piersall is "rather explosive, a great player but far from crazy."

Speaking at the silver anniversary banquet of the Wisconsin Old Time Ballplayers Association dinner Monday night, Dykes said:

"If anyone thinks he's crazy, they should try to get him to come to a dinner. His price may start at $5,000. Why did I get along with him? Maybe he respects age."

Dykes went on to tell that at one time in the past season the fiery Piersall, who has been traded by Cleveland to the Washington Senators, had a two strike count when he put down a bunt.

"I almost died," Dykes said, "but you can't combat success. He's just a great ballplayer."

WCIAA Re-Elects Its Top Officers

LA CROSSE (AP)—Two high school principals have been re-elected to top posts in the Wisconsin Catholic Interscholastic Athletic Association.

The Rev. Vernon J. Kuehn of Milwaukee Messner High, remains chairman of the group's board of control, and the Rev. Bernard Pierick of Beloit Catholic High was reelected vice chairman.

The Rev. Edwin Thome of Wausau was named to replace the Rev. Andrew Karobils of Mauston as principal-member of the board.

The Rev. Ambrose Peeters of Green Bay and Mrs. Edward Wilke of Madison were reelected to three-year terms on the board.

Packer victory over the Cleveland Browns Sunday. Actually, the Packers were just limbering up their muscles with a stretching exercise. The Cleveland players up front are John Wooten (60) and Duane Putnam (62).

It's a Rough Season for Some Of the Nation's Top Quarterbacks

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Quarterbacks, Their Trials and Tribulations."

That could well be the subject for today when some of the nation's college football teams get down to hard work for this Saturday's games.

The subjects concerned are some of the more famous at their occupations this year.

Sonny Gibbs, the tree-like signal-caller of Texas Christian, broke three ribs in last Saturday's loss to Texas Tech and has been replaced by soph Gray Mills. Just before his team's loss to Arkansas the previous week, Gibbs injured himself when an airplane loading ramp collapsed as his team was getting ready to leave for Little Rock.

Beat U. S., 4 to 1

Italian Netters Prepare For Trip to Australia

ROME (AP)—Italy trained its sights on Australia and another crack at the Davis Cup today while the humiliated United States began the long wait until next year.

The Italians—after beating the Americans in the interzone final, 4-1 — promptly started preparations for the trip to Australia. There, in December, the Italians for the second straight year will meet Australia in the challenge round for the most coveted trophy in international tennis.

Italian tennis officials said they would probably use the same three men against Australia that beat the United States: Nicola Pietrangeli, Orlando Sirola, and Fausto Gardini.

Eugenio Migone, nonplaying captain of the Italian team, said: "We have every hope of winning. It will be close."

The Italians were determined to do better than last year, when they lost to the Australians, 4-1.

David Freed, nonplaying captain of the U.S. team, agreed it would be close, too. He said the Italians could win if Sirola is in shape for doubles and Pietrangeli plays against the Australians as he played against the Americans.

Pietrangeli, 28, who has dominated European amateur tennis for the last few years, decided a year ago to join Jack Kramer's professional troupe. Then he changed his mind, saying he wanted to remain an amateur to help Italy win the Davis Cup.

Without him Italy never would have beaten the United States. He won two crucial singles matches, defeating Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif. He also was instrumental in giving Italy a third point, teaming with Orlando

Spartans Lose Grid Captain For 4 Weeks

Notre Dame's QB Has Bruised Ankle But Will Play

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest Football Briefs:

Michigan State—The Spartans will have to face Notre Dame without the services of Capt. Ed Ryan. Ryan has a shoulder dislocation and will be out for at least four weeks.

Notre Dame — Quarterback Daryle Lamonica has a bruised ankle but should be ready for Michigan State. The Irish reserves scrimmaged while those who saw service against Southern Cal took things easy.

Michigan — Guard Deb Nolan suffered a back injury and might miss the Purdue game. Nolan is the sixth Wolverine guard to be sidelined this season.

Purdue—Dave Miller, Bob Waiter and Lang Marks—all right halfbacks—are on Purdue's doubtful list. Steve Weil is filling in. Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf is hospitalized and assistant Bob DeMoss is filling in.

Iowa—Halfback Larry Ferguson had a cast removed from his injured leg but there is no chance of his playing against Wisconsin.

Quarterback Wilburn Hollis' cast will be removed Friday from his wrist.

Ohio State—A two-man battle for the starting quarterback job against Northwestern is being waged between John Mumme and Bill Mrukowski. Both played well in the 44-0 rout over Illinois.

Northwestern — Leg injuries juries have hobbled center Larry Onesti, end Chuck Logan and tackle Fate Echols. All should be ready for Ohio State Saturday. The Wildcats worked on their passing attack.

Move CCC Event To Notre Dame

CHICAGO (AP) — The Central Collegiate Athletic Conference voted Monday to move its outdoor track and field championships from Marquette University to Notre Dame.
